32 States Get Gas Supply Cut

Government Tabs Reserve to Help Transportation in Crisis

Denver, May 10 (AP)—A government order reserving supplies of motor gasoline to maintain essential transportation went into effect today in 32 eastern and midwestern states and the District of Columbia.

The order, issued by the Petroleum Administration for Defense (PAD), concerns operators of bulk gasoline plants, terminals and large filling stations.

About one-half of all service stations in the area, stretching from the Atlantic seaboard to Kansas and Oklahoma, will be involved the PAD estimated.

That was the latest step resulting from the 11-day-old strike of refinery and pipeline workers in the oil industry.

Previously, steps had been taken to cut down on use of high-octane aviation gasoline in commercial, private and military fields.

Meanwhile, an extension of the nationwide strike to California was cancelled early today by CIO oilworkers.

A San Francisco, union international representative James Thornberry said a strike at the Shell Chemical Corp. plant at Pittsburg was called off at the request of union headquarters in Denver.

The decision came as the refinery was closing down part of its operations.

Cite War Effort

National union headquarters previously had asked California workers to stay on the job because of the role California refineries play in the war effort. It was said, however, such immunity could be ended any time.

The new PAD order, which went into effect at 3:01 a. m., Eastern Standard Time, today, holds that supplies may not drop below "3,000 barrels of motor fuel or a quantity equal to five per cent of * * * total storage capacity, whichever amount is smaller."

The 3,000-barrel inventory requirement for bulk plant and terminal operators is equivalent to 126,000 gallons, on the basis of 42 gallons to the barrel.

While supplies of automobile fuel are dwindling in some cities and voluntary rationing has been reported in a few areas, the nation is not expected to feel a major shortage of gasoline for at least a month.

PAD officials said they do not expect the average motorist to feel any immediate effect of the latest order. Filling stations generally maintain stocks well in excess of five per cent of their storage capacity.

No Action Raised By Congress Over Nation's Steel Rift

Industry, Government, CIO to File Briefs Today With Supreme Court on Seizure Move

Washington, May 10 (AP)—Congressional resentment over government handling of the steel wage-price crisis simmered today but there were no immediate indications that lawmakers planned to do anything about it.

On the steel front itself, industry, government, and the CIO Steelworkers Union were to file briefs with the Supreme Court today in connection with arguments before the court on legality of President Truman's seizure of the steel industry. Arguments are scheduled for Monday.

Two House committees looking into the steel matter recessed their investigations yesterday on an angry but inconclusive note:

Left in Air

The House Armed Services Committee left the fate of an anti-strike receivership bill up in the air, with Rep. Kilday of Texas, a senior Democratic member, accusing the Truman administration of staging a "sitdown" strike against the bill by declining to furnish witnesses from the Labor and Justice Departments.

The House Labor Committee released Nathan P. Feinsinger, chairman of the embattled Wage Stabilization Board (WSB)—which one legislator said was stacked in favor of labor—after three consecutive days of grilling examination on the board's controversial recommendation for a 26-cents-an-hour wage increase package and the union shop. The group calls in industry members of the board starting Monday. The first witness is expected to be George Armstrong, president of the Texas Steel Co. of Fort Worth.

First NSLI Dividend Checks Mailed to Vets

First of the 1952 National Service Life Insurance dividends due New York veterans have been mailed, F. William Sheehan of the Veterans Administration, 286 Fair street, announced today.

By the end of the year an estimated 400,000 New York veterans will receive checks up to $68 as their share of the third insurance dividend disbursed by the VA. Checks mailed in April were for policies whose anniversary dates were in January. Checks to be mailed this month will be for policies with February anniversary dates.

VA announced that more than 540,000 New York veterans have retained their national Service Life Insurance, on the basis of files transferred from New York to the Philadelphia District Office late last year. Of these policies, more than 460,000 have been converted to permanent plans. The estimate of 400,000 dividend checks to be mailed is based on the fact that 1,400,000 of the 2,000,000 policy holders on file at the Philadelphia District Office requested their dividend checks in cash. Under new statutes veterans must request payment or the dividend will be held to their account.

Rev. Dr. Houston Gets High Honor

One of the outstanding honors which may be granted a minister at the Methodist General Conference, which meets once each four years, was given the Rev. Ralph M. Houston, D.D., pastor of St. James Methodist Church of this city, when he was elected to the Judicial Council of the Methodist Church.

The Methodist General Conference, in session at San Francisco, elected Dr. Houston one of the five clergymen on the nine man panel which includes four laymen to serve with the five ministers. The Judicial Council is the "appeal" body of the church and has the duty to pass upon constitutional questions and legality appeals from rulings of the church.

The council meets once a year and at the General Conference which convenes once each four years. There were about 30 clergymen from all over the country nominated for this important council and the nomination and election of Dr. Houston from among the thousands of Methodist clergymen in the country brings to Kingston a high church honor.

Named by Bookie Gross

Two former high police officials of New York City, former Chief Inspector August Flath (right) and former chief of detectives William Whalen (left) were labeled grafters by Harry Gross, one-time boss bookie, in testimony before a police departmental trial in Brooklyn, New York, May 8. Gross, now serving a prison sentence for bookmaking and conspiracy, said he paid the men money in return for protection for the horse betting parlors he was operating.

Gross' Brother Beaten

Officials Declare He's Told to Take It as Warning to Bookie About Police Graft Testimony

New York, May 10 (AP)—Two men beat up the younger brother of bookie Harry Gross last night as a warning to the gambler to halt his testimony about paying graft to New York policemen.

A city official revealed today that the men set upon Jackie Gross, about 24 years old, on West 29th street, Manhattan, and told him to take it as "a warning to your brother."

He was not seriously hurt. A police guard was given him immediately.

Names Highest Officials

The older Gross shocked a police departmental trial this week by declaring he had paid cash to the three highest police department officials, since retired, to protect his $20 million-a-year bookmaking racket.

He also named more than 100 lesser policemen as being on his payroll and said he had access to police department records.

Assistant Corporation Counsel Victor J. Herwitz, revealed the beating of Jackie Gross. He said the young man called him after the assault. Herwitz and young Gross both conferred later with Police Commissioner George P. Monaghan.

Herwitz declined to give further details.

Young Gross was questioned by police about two weeks ago—and later released—in connection with an extortion threat reported by Deputy Police Inspector Herman Schwartzberg.

Schwartzberg said an unidentified man confronted him April 25 and said:

"I am Jackie Gross, brother of Harry Gross, unless you and others get it up, more names will be mentioned by my brother."

Schwartzberg later was unable to identify young Gross as the man who confronted him.

The older Gross is testifying at the departmental trial of five police officers in an effort to get a reduction of a 12-year prison sentence for bookmaking.

He wrecked an earlier trial by suddenly refusing to testify after taking the witness stand. But after spending some time in prison he offered to sing in a bid for freedom.

Gross testified yesterday that he had named the three high officials previously in testimony before a grand jury and expressed wonder that they had not been indicted.

He asked whether favoritism were being shown.

This drew an angry retort from the Brooklyn prosecutor who broke up Gross' bookmaking empire that the mere naming of a man by Gross without corroborating evidence was insufficient to indict.

Brooklyn District Attorney Miles F. McDonald, said a Brooklyn Grand Jury indicted everyone against whom it thought it had a case.

Gross and McDonald engaged in their verbal exchange yesterday as the dapper, 36-year-old bookie wound up two and a half days of sensational testimony at the departmental trial. The trial was adjourned over the week-end.

The five are charged with sharing in the million dollars a year graft Gross claims he paid police for protection of his gambling business.

Lt. Thomas J. Evans, 44, one of the defendants, was called to the witness stand in his own defense when the city rested after Gross' testimony. Evans denied ever taking graft from Gross, or even knowing the bookie.

But the bookie's testimony that he bribed top police aids of former Mayor William O'Dwyer and that they were not prosecuted overshadowed the proceedings against the five defendants.

Suitor Knifes School Girl, Stabs Self Before Crowd

New York, May 10 (AP)—A 30-year-old, apparently thwarted suitor darted through sidewalk crowds near Pennsylvania station yesterday to stab to death the high school girl he loved.

Then before the eyes of horrified passersby on Manhattan's busy 34th street, he stabbed himself with the six-inch blade of the same hunting knife.

A few feet away, the married sister of the dead girl wailed over the body of the 15-year-old student she had met to escort home from school.

Police said the man, Eduardo Charriez, a postoffice clerk in Brooklyn, had first met the girl, Olga Salart, when both previously lived in Puerto Rico.

Her sister, Mrs. Elba Pepitone, said she had been accompanying Olga home from the St. Michael's Roman Catholic Academy to make sure Charriez would not bother the girl.

Charriez, who was not hurt seriously, was charged with homicide.

Mrs. Daniella Salart, Olga's mother, said Charriez and his wife used to take Olga to the movies. He also helped her with her home-

Fire Warning Is Given on Forests

Albany, N. Y., May 10 (AP)—A new spurt of blazes today prompted a notice to weekend visitors to the state's forests to be extremely cautious with fires.

The State Conservation Department said last night 18 new fires had been reported in New York's powder-dry woodlands. The department said nine were in the Adirondacks, four on Long Island, and the others scattered.

In a plea for public cooperation, a spokesman noted that warm, dry air yesterday had dissipated beneficial effects of showers in the Adirondacks earlier in the week.

List Grand Awards For Party Hailing Crossing Opening

The general committee members of the Central Business Men's Association have released a list of the three grand awards to be given away free at the big block party, celebrating the Broadway crossing opening Wednesday night, May 28, on Broadway between Henry and Cedar streets.

Dozens of gifts, donated by members of the Association, will be displayed in the individual stores of the contributors, beginning next week. Distribution of the many gifts will be only one of the features of this gala event. The committee has planned for the entertainment of all, including pony rides for the kiddies, courtesy of the 9-W Drive-In, and a 12 piece orchestra for dancing and listening pleasure, together with many acts by talented local artists.

Louis Jones, Association president, emphasized in his announcement that there will be no obligation of any kind on the part of the general public. "We want everyone to come and have fun," Jones said. Devers Has Had Varied Career in Military Service

Speaker at Hasbrouck Testimonial June 5 Is 40-Year Man in U. S. Army

JACOB L. DEVERS

Gen. Jacob L. Devers, who will be principal speaker for the June 5 testimonial dinner for Maj. Gen. Robert W. Hasbrouck, has had a varied military career covering 40 years of active service.

Born September 8, 1887, in York, Pa., Devers lived in that city until the time of his appointment to the United States Military Academy, West Point, in 1905. He graduated in 1909 with a commission as second lieutenant of Field Artillery.

During his forty years of service, which ended with his retirement as a four-star general on Sept. 30, 1949, General Devers occupied many important posts in the United States Army.

From 1912 to 1916 he was an instructor of mathematics at West Point. During World War 1, he served in France and Germany, returning in 1919 to become an instructor in Field Artillery tactics at the Military Academy. From 1934 to 1939 he was graduate manager of athletics at the Point.

In 1939, Gen. Devers became chief of staff of the Panama Canal Department. Two years later, he was assigned as Chief of the Armed Forces.

Was Commanding General

He became Commanding General of the United States Forces in the European Theatre of Operations in May of 1943, and was later made Deputy Supreme Allied Commander for the Mediterranean Theatre. From September, 1944, until the end of the war in Europe, he was Commanding General of the Sixth Army Group in France.

Returning stateside in June, 1945, Gen. Devers succeeded Gen. Joseph W. Stilwell as Commanding General, Army Ground Forces, which title was subsequently changed to Chief, Army Field Forces—the title Gen. Devers held at the time of his retirement from the Army in 1949.

He holds the Distinguished Service Medal with two Oak Clusters, as well as numerous other American decorations, 12 foreign decorations and several honorary degrees.

On Jan. 1, 1950, Gen. Devers assumed the duties of managing director of the AAA Foundation for Traffic Safety, with offices in Washington, D. C. He retired from this position at the end of one year. On Jan. 1, 1951, he became technical assistant to the president of Fairchild Engine and Airplane Corporation, with offices in the Cafritz Building, Washing-

Commander Freed After Meeting of Ringleaders

Seoul, Korea, May 10 (AP)—The U. S. Eighth Army announced tonight that Brig. Gen. Francis T. Dodd has been released—in good health and good spirits—by Communist prisoners of war on Koje Island.

Dodd, then commander of prison camps on the island, was seized by Red prisoners Wednesday as he conferred with them at the gate of Compound 76.

An Eighth Army statement said the general's release came after a meeting of Communist ringleaders of the compound. It was attended by prisoner leaders from other compounds on the island.

The conclave of Communist POW leaders came after Gen. James A. Van Fleet, U. S. Eighth Army commander, made it clear he was preparing to use force if the general were not released unharmed.

The terms worked out at the conference of Reds were not immediately disclosed.

An army spokesman said Dodd would be flown to Seoul tomorrow and would hold a news conference. The spokesman said also that correspondents would be allowed to visit Koje tomorrow. The island it 30 miles off the southeastern tip of Korea.

Talks With Colson

Dodd will spend the night with Brig. Gen. Charles Colson, who was appointed commander of the Koje camps the day after Dodd was seized.

Dodd was snatched Wednesday afternoon and dragged inside Compound 76, where 6,000 North Korean die-hard Communists are held. He and another officer, Lt. Col. Robert Raven, Newton, Tex., were standing by the wide, main gate of the compound, talking with leaders of the prisoners.

The pair evidently had been lured there by Communist leaders for a conference.

Suddenly the Red POWs grabbed Dodd and hustled him inside the compound. Raven managed to fight his way from the arms of the Reds and escape.

For three days, the Reds held Dodd prisoner, meanwhile negotiating with him for settlement of the prisoner's grievances.

Warned Against Force

American meals were passed in to the 52-year-old general and he was allowed free use of the telephone inside the compound. Over this telephone he asked camp authorities to refrain from using force to get him out until the Red leaders had completed a list of their demands.

Saturday morning the army said they had granted some of the Red demands—"minor requests" which included use of a telephone, writing paper and the admittance of prisoner leaders from other compounds on the island. Approximately 80,000 Reds are held on the island—most of them are among the 70,000 prisoners who have said they will return to communism.

Koje has been the scene of two bloody earlier prisoner riots. Crammed behind the barbed wire are many Red die-hards who demonstrate, shout and sing Communist songs.

On Feb. 18, a batch of Reds rioted and 75 prisoners were killed and 135 wounded as American troops opened fire to stop it. One American soldier was killed

Hobson Official Says Wasp Signaled Turn Before Crash

57 Survivors Hear Record of Statement, Refuse to Bring Any Charges Against Superiors

Bayonne, N. J., May 10 (AP)—The aircraft carrier Wasp, running ahead and to the left of the destroyer minesweeper Hobson, signaled it was making a turn shortly before the vessels collided April 26, a naval court of inquiry has been told.

The testimony came from Lt. William A. Hoeffer, Jr., of Thomaston, Ala., senior surviving officer of the Hobson, at yesterday's opening session of the inquiry into the disaster which cost the lives of 176 Hobson crewmen.

The inquiry court resumed this morning at the naval shipyard annex taking testimony from 15 of the 58 Hobson survivors so they may be given leave as soon as possible. The other 43 were heard yesterday afternoon.

Hoefer told the court he was junior officer of the deck of the Hobson.

His Testimony

His testimony, minus deletions concerning signals and maneuvers classed as secret:

The Hobson was making 25 knots with clear visibility when he first sighted the Wasp off the port bow. (Discussion on signals exchanged deleted).

The Wasp signaled it was making a turn. Lt. Cmdr. William J. Tierny, skipper of the Hobson and one of the 176 men lost in the collision, took over operation of the ship.

Hoefer said after he took a bearing on the Wasp he estimated the Hobson would pass 850 yards to the carrier's stern.

Three to seven seconds before the collision Tierney ordered a hard left turn, he said, and the Hobson was struck on its starboard (right) side at a 90-degree angle. Hoefer was swept overboard.

Won't Make Charges

After Hoefer's statement was read to the 57 other Hobson survivors a recess was ordered.

The surviving crewmen were brought before the court individually and each was asked to check the list of missing shipmates for any he knew.

They all answered in the negative when asked if they wished to

19-Year-Old Admits His Guilt as Baseball Bookie

New York, May 10 (AP)—A 19-year-old boy pleaded guilty in Gamblers Court yesterday to a charge of taking baseball bets from children in a lower East Side elementary school.

The boy, George Scheib, made his small customers write out their own betting slips because, as a one-time truant, he could read and write very little, police said.

Magistrate Charles E. Ramsage was startled when Scheib pleaded guilty. The court remarked that in 13 years on the bench he never had seen a bookmaker as young as Scheib, who said he made $8 a day taking bets.

The arrest followed a boast by two children at home that "boy, we sure hit George today." Their fathers overheard it, questioned the children and reported to police. A patrolman watched Scheib take bets in the school yard.

Patrolman Alfred Toefield said the bets were that any three baseball players would make six hits on any one day. The payoff was 10 to one. Toefield said slips found in Scheib's pockets read "10-1 Pete 10c DiMaggio, Thompson Simpson," and "10-1 Joe 5c Cox Snider Furillo."

Magistrate Ramsgate set May 19 for sentence.

BrooklynManHurt In West Park Crash

A Brooklyn man was injured and his automobile badly damaged in an accident at West Park about 3 p. m. Thursday. State police said two automobiles and a tractor trailer were involved in the collision.

Sidney Spooner, 25, of 777 Lincoln Place, Brooklyn, was taken by ambulance to Vassar Brothers Hospital in Poughkeepsie, where it was reported this morning that he was scheduled to go to the operating room for treatment of an arm injury.

Troopers from the Highland station said Spooner's car was in collision with a tractor trailer owned by the Lehmann Transportation Company, Downingtown, Pa., and driven by Guy Crew, 39, of that city, and that a fender of a panel truck owned by the Hopwood Company, Jersey City, and driven by Nick Jackman, 48, of Brooklyn was also damaged in the mix-up.

Exact cause of the accident, which occurred on Route 9W, was not reported by state police, but troopers said that Spooner's automobile apparently first veered to the right, then collided with the tractor part of the tractor trailer and finally struck a left fender of the panel truck. No arrests were made.

Fire Warning Is Given on Forests

Albany, N. Y., May 10 (AP)—A new spurt of blazes today prompted a notice to weekend visitors to the state's forests to be extremely cautious with fires.

The State Conservation Department said last night 18 new fires had been reported in New York's powder-dry woodlands. The department said nine were in the Adirondacks, four on Long Island, and the others scattered.

In a plea for public cooperation, a spokesman noted that warm, dry air yesterday had dissipated beneficial effects of showers in the Adirondacks earlier in the week.

Devers Has Had Varied Career in Military Service

Speaker at Hasbrouck Testimonial June 5 Is 40-Year Man in U. S. Army

JACOB L. DEVERS

Gen. Jacob L. Devers, who will be principal speaker for the June 5 testimonial dinner for Maj. Gen. Robert W. Hasbrouck, has had a varied military career covering 40 years of active service.

Born September 8, 1887, in York, Pa., Devers lived in that city until the time of his appointment to the United States Military Academy, West Point, in 1905. He graduated in 1909 with a commission as second lieutenant of Field Artillery.

During his forty years of service, which ended with his retirement as a four-star general on Sept. 30, 1949, General Devers occupied many important posts in the United States Army.

From 1912 to 1916 he was an instructor of mathematics at West Point. During World War 1, he served in France and Germany, returning in 1919 to become an instructor in Field Artillery tactics at the Military Academy. From 1934 to 1939 he was graduate manager of athletics at the Point.

In 1939, Gen. Devers became chief of staff of the Panama Canal Department. Two years later, he was assigned as Chief of the Armed Forces.

Was Commanding General

He became Commanding General of the United States Forces in the European Theatre of Operations in May of 1943, and was later made Deputy Supreme Allied Commander for the Mediterranean Theatre. From September, 1944, until the end of the war in Europe, he was Commanding General of the Sixth Army Group in France.

Returning stateside in June, 1945, Gen. Devers succeeded Gen. Joseph W. Stilwell as Commanding General, Army Ground Forces, which title was subsequently changed to Chief, Army Field Forces—the title Gen. Devers held at the time of his retirement from the Army in 1949.

He holds the Distinguished Service Medal with two Oak Clusters, as well as numerous other American decorations, 12 foreign decorations and several honorary degrees.

On Jan. 1, 1950, Gen. Devers assumed the duties of managing director of the AAA Foundation for Traffic Safety, with offices in Washington, D. C. He retired from this position at the end of one year. On Jan. 1, 1951, he became technical assistant to the president of Fairchild Engine and Airplane Corporation, with offices in the Cafritz Building, Washing-

Commander Freed After Meeting of Ringleaders

Seoul, Korea, May 10 (AP)—The U. S. Eighth Army announced tonight that Brig. Gen. Francis T. Dodd has been released—in good health and good spirits—by Communist prisoners of war on Koje Island.

Dodd, then commander of prison camps on the island, was seized by Red prisoners Wednesday as he conferred with them at the gate of Compound 76.

An Eighth Army statement said the general's release came after a meeting of Communist ringleaders of the compound. It was attended by prisoner leaders from other compounds on the island.

The conclave of Communist POW leaders came after Gen. James A. Van Fleet, U. S. Eighth Army commander, made it clear he was preparing to use force if the general were not released unharmed.

The terms worked out at the conference of Reds were not immediately disclosed.

An army spokesman said Dodd would be flown to Seoul tomorrow and would hold a news conference. The spokesman said also that correspondents would be allowed to visit Koje tomorrow. The island it 30 miles off the southeastern tip of Korea.

Talks With Colson

Dodd will spend the night with Brig. Gen. Charles Colson, who was appointed commander of the Koje camps the day after Dodd was seized.

Dodd was snatched Wednesday afternoon and dragged inside Compound 76, where 6,000 North Korean die-hard Communists are held. He and another officer, Lt. Col. Robert Raven, Newton, Tex., were standing by the wide, main gate of the compound, talking with leaders of the prisoners.

The pair evidently had been lured there by Communist leaders for a conference.

Suddenly the Red POWs grabbed Dodd and hustled him inside the compound. Raven managed to fight his way from the arms of the Reds and escape.

For three days, the Reds held Dodd prisoner, meanwhile negotiating with him for settlement of the prisoner's grievances.

Warned Against Force

American meals were passed in to the 52-year-old general and he was allowed free use of the telephone inside the compound. Over this telephone he asked camp authorities to refrain from using force to get him out until the Red leaders had completed a list of their demands.

Saturday morning the army said they had granted some of the Red demands—"minor requests" which included use of a telephone, writing paper and the admittance of prisoner leaders from other compounds on the island. Approximately 80,000 Reds are held on the island—most of them are among the 70,000 prisoners who have said they will return to communism.

Koje has been the scene of two bloody earlier prisoner riots. Crammed behind the barbed wire are many Red die-hards who demonstrate, shout and sing Communist songs.

On Feb. 18, a batch of Reds rioted and 75 prisoners were killed and 135 wounded as American troops opened fire to stop it. One American soldier was killed

Hobson Official Says Wasp Signaled Turn Before Crash

57 Survivors Hear Record of Statement, Refuse to Bring Any Charges Against Superiors

Bayonne, N. J., May 10 (AP)—The aircraft carrier Wasp, running ahead and to the left of the destroyer minesweeper Hobson, signaled it was making a turn shortly before the vessels collided April 26, a naval court of inquiry has been told.

The testimony came from Lt. William A. Hoeffer, Jr., of Thomaston, Ala., senior surviving officer of the Hobson, at yesterday's opening session of the inquiry into the disaster which cost the lives of 176 Hobson crewmen.

The inquiry court resumed this morning at the naval shipyard annex taking testimony from 15 of the 58 Hobson survivors so they may be given leave as soon as possible. The other 43 were heard yesterday afternoon.

Hoefer told the court he was junior officer of the deck of the Hobson.

His Testimony

His testimony, minus deletions concerning signals and maneuvers classed as secret:

The Hobson was making 25 knots with clear visibility when he first sighted the Wasp off the port bow. (Discussion on signals exchanged deleted).

The Wasp signaled it was making a turn. Lt. Cmdr. William J. Tierny, skipper of the Hobson and one of the 176 men lost in the collision, took over operation of the ship.

Hoefer said after he took a bearing on the Wasp he estimated the Hobson would pass 850 yards to the carrier's stern.

Three to seven seconds before the collision Tierney ordered a hard left turn, he said, and the Hobson was struck on its starboard (right) side at a 90-degree angle. Hoefer was swept overboard.

Won't Make Charges

After Hoefer's statement was read to the 57 other Hobson survivors a recess was ordered.

The surviving crewmen were brought before the court individually and each was asked to check the list of missing shipmates for any he knew.

They all answered in the negative when asked if they wished to

19-Year-Old Admits His Guilt as Baseball Bookie

New York, May 10 (AP)—A 19-year-old boy pleaded guilty in Gamblers Court yesterday to a charge of taking baseball bets from children in a lower East Side elementary school.

The boy, George Scheib, made his small customers write out their own betting slips because, as a one-time truant, he could read and write very little, police said.

Magistrate Charles E. Ramsage was startled when Scheib pleaded guilty. The court remarked that in 13 years on the bench he never had seen a bookmaker as young as Scheib, who said he made $8 a day taking bets.

The arrest followed a boast by two children at home that "boy, we sure hit George today." Their fathers overheard it, questioned the children and reported to police. A patrolman watched Scheib take bets in the school yard.

Patrolman Alfred Toefield said the bets were that any three baseball players would make six hits on any one day. The payoff was 10 to one. Toefield said slips found in Scheib's pockets read "10-1 Pete 10c DiMaggio, Thompson Simpson," and "10-1 Joe 5c Cox Snider Furillo."

Magistrate Ramsgate set May 19 for sentence.

BrooklynManHurt In West Park Crash

A Brooklyn man was injured and his automobile badly damaged in an accident at West Park about 3 p. m. Thursday. State police said two automobiles and a tractor trailer were involved in the collision.

Sidney Spooner, 25, of 777 Lincoln Place, Brooklyn, was taken by ambulance to Vassar Brothers Hospital in Poughkeepsie, where it was reported this morning that he was scheduled to go to the operating room for treatment of an arm injury.

Troopers from the Highland station said Spooner's car was in collision with a tractor trailer owned by the Lehmann Transportation Company, Downingtown, Pa., and driven by Guy Crew, 39, of that city, and that a fender of a panel truck owned by the Hopwood Company, Jersey City, and driven by Nick Jackman, 48, of Brooklyn was also damaged in the mix-up.

Exact cause of the accident, which occurred on Route 9W, was not reported by state police, but troopers said that Spooner's automobile apparently first veered to the right, then collided with the tractor part of the tractor trailer and finally struck a left fender of the panel truck. No arrests were made.

"LORD, TEACH US TO PRAY"

Long before Christ came upon the earth, men were resorting to prayer for divine help.

The people of Israel, we know, realized the power of prayer and prayed often in appeal for God's blessing in gratitude for His favors. Almost every one instinctively feels the need for prayer in time of danger and emergency.

Many people, unfortunately, do not know how to pray properly. Even the Apostles, watching as Jesus prayed, became conscious for the first time of the mighty power of a proper prayer. They could see on the Savior's face as He prayed, the reflection of a great inner peace and refreshment.

So they said to Jesus: "Lord, teach us to pray."

And Christ replied: "Pray thus ... Our Father Who art in heaven, hallowed be Thy Name.

"Thy Kingdom come, Thy will be done, on earth as it is in heaven.

"Give us this day our daily bread.

"And forgive us our debts as we also forgive our debtors. And lead us not into temptation, but deliver us from evil."

The words of the "Lord's Prayer" are enshrined, of course, in the hearts of Christians everywhere. And yet Christ, in giving us this most beautiful prayer of all, did not tell us to "Pray this." He said: "Pray thus."

He meant that we must pray with the realization that God is truly our Father ... that His Name is to be revered as no other ... that His Will is to be done here and hereafter ... that we are to be truly sorry for our injustices to others, and forgive those who injure us ... and that we are to avoid sin.

People who question the value of prayer usually say they have tried it and "it didn't work." They mean by this, of course, that God did not grant the things for which they prayed. A better understanding of proper prayer would make clear to them that petition for God's favor is only one kind of prayer ... and that God does not grant every favor which we may want or think we need.

Proper prayer is not merely a petition for blessings, but also an expression of our love, our devotion and our gratitude to God ... a declaration of our acceptance of God as our Father ... a submission of our wishes and our will to the wishes and the Will of God.

Every day ... in every land and every tongue ... a mighty chorus of prayer rises from the hearts of Catholics to honor God — to implore His blessing — to pay Him grateful thanks. For the Church teaches ... and Catholics know ... that there is no power in the hands of men so great as the power of prayer.

The most famous collection of prayers known to history is the Book of Psalms ... prayers in which God Himself teaches us clearly the dispositions with which we should pray.

To help you in your prayers, we will send you a beautifully illustrated edition of the Book of Psalms free of charge. Write today and ask for your copy of Book of Psalms No. 11 — KC.

L. C. ROBIE

L. C. Robie, evangelist of Union Springs, formerly known as Sky Pilot Robie with 29 years of the gospel ministry experience, will begin a two-week series of talks Sunday, May 18, at 7:30 p. m. at the Full Gospel Tabernacle Church, Fair street. He will be heard every night during the engagement except Monday.

Robie was ordained in the Methodist denomination in 1925 and since then has traveled extensively through this country and Canada.

A native of Olean, he was called to preach the gospel in a little school house in North Ilion in 1914 and from there went on to spend six more years in preparation for the evangelistic field. He later attended Cazenovia Prep School, Genesee Wesleyan, Lima; Practical Bible Training School, Bible School Park, N. Y., and the Bible Institute, Los Angeles, Calif.

Robie recently appeared at the Glad Tiding Tabernacle at North Hornell. Following his talk, the Hornell Tribune had this to say of his appearance:

Healed Through Faith

"The message on the Moving of the Waters by L. C. Robie, evangelist urged those afflicted with physical ailments to seek both spiritual and physical healing. Three persons responded, including a young lady who has been crippled in 1949 by polio. Up until last evening she could not walk without the assistance of a large brace. She left the service on foot without the appliance. Others gave personal testimonies affirming that they had been completely healed through faith in God.

Your Life and Mine

by CLYDE HERBERT SNELL

CONSIDER THE CRADLE

In a changing world like ours there is always such a flutter in the nest of importance. One day we are giving our brooding attentions to "this" as all-important; and the very next day to "that." Just now we are concentrating our attention on two "birds". We must elect ourselves a President (we call that one "politics", in case you haven't heard) and we must get ready to blow everybody else on the planet up (we call that "preparedness.") Those two are stealing the show. And I am sure you must have noticed how the politicians, in these days, hardly dare to sneeze without one eye on the voting booth. Someone has said that what we need is statesmen who are more interested in the next generation than they are in the next election.

Which opens the door for a suggestion: maybe it might be wise, in making our decision as to what is important and what is not important, to consider the cradle. We are so apt to overlook that for it seems so insignificant. Emerson once said in one of his lectures that "the order of things is as good as the character of the population permits." Dear! Dear! What awful shape the character of the population must be in! If we don't succeed in grafting some of the old fashioned virtues of purity and honesty and decency into the lives of the growing young there won't be any country here to need a president for very long; and we won't need to be worrying about blowing everybody up, because success along that line will be a full-flowered accomplishment.

Cradles have more to do with the world's hope than we have realized. Horace Bushnell once said: "Let every Christian father and mother understand, when their child is three years old, that they have done more than half of all they will ever do for his character." We wory about starting pablum—and we forget to start character.

F. W. Boreham tells in one of his essay about a Britisher who was "hepped" on the Empire. "Compared with his imperial visions, his home appeared to be a rather poky place." One evening when he came home for dinner the poor wife had been having her troubles. "The baby had been fretful; the stove had been troublesome; and everything had gone wrong. The imperial brow clouded, and there was thunder and lightning. The poor wife winced and wept beneath the storm; and then, smiling through her tears, she went toward her lord, laid the peevish baby in his arms, and said: 'There, now, you mind your little bit of Empire, whilst I dish the potatoes!' "

After telling that story Boreham adds this comment: "It is a fine thing to dream heroic dreams either of the future Empire or the future Church, (and he could well have added the future and world) but, in order to make those dreams come true, it is just possible that the first step towards it is to look well after the baby."

Evangelist Opens Two-Week Series In City on May 18

L. C. ROBIE

Robie, evangelist of Union Springs, formerly known as Sky Pilot Robie with 29 years of the gospel ministry experience, will begin a two-week series of talks Sunday, May 18, at 7:30 p. m. at the Full Gospel Tabernacle Church, Fair street. He will be heard every night during the engagement except Monday.

Robie was ordained in the Methodist denomination in 1925 and since then has traveled extensively through this country and Canada.

A native of Olean, he was called to preach the gospel in a little school house in North Ilion in 1914 and from there went on to spend six more years in preparation for the evangelistic field. He later attended Cazenovia Prep School, Genesee Wesleyan, Lima; Practical Bible Training School, Bible School Park, N. Y., and the Bible Institute, Los Angeles, Calif.

Robie recently appeared at the Glad Tiding Tabernacle at North Hornell. Following his talk, the Hornell Tribune had this to say of his appearance:

Healed Through Faith

"The message on the Moving of the Waters by L. C. Robie, evangelist urged those afflicted with physical ailments to seek both spiritual and physical healing. Three persons responded, including a young lady who has been crippled in 1949 by polio. Up until last evening she could not walk without the assistance of a large brace. She left the service on foot without the appliance. Others gave personal testimonies affirming that they had been completely healed through faith in God."

Your Life and Mine

by CLYDE HERBERT SNELL

CONSIDER THE CRADLE

In a changing world like ours there is always such a flutter in the nest of importance. One day we are giving our brooding attentions to "this" as all-important; and the very next day to "that." Just now we are concentrating our attention on two "birds". We must elect ourselves a President (we call that one "politics", in case you haven't heard) and we must get ready to blow everybody else on the planet up (we call that "preparedness.") Those two are stealing the show. And I am sure you must have noticed how the politicians, in these days, hardly dare to sneeze without one eye on the voting booth. Someone has said that what we need is statesmen who are more interested in the next generation than they are in the next election.

Which opens the door for a suggestion: maybe it might be wise, in making our decision as to what is important and what is not important, to consider the cradle. We are so apt to overlook that for it seems so insignificant. Emerson once said in one of his lectures that "the order of things is as good as the character of the population permits." Dear! Dear! What awful shape the character of the population must be in! If we don't succeed in grafting some of the old fashioned virtues of purity and honesty and decency into the lives of the growing young there won't be any country here to need a president for very long; and we won't need to be worrying about blowing everybody up, because success along that line will be a full-flowered accomplishment.

Cradles have more to do with the world's hope than we have realized. Horace Bushnell once said: "Let every Christian father and mother understand, when their child is three years old, that they have done more than half of all they will ever do for his character." We wory about starting pablum—and we forget to start character.

F. W. Boreham tells in one of his essay about a Britisher who was "hepped" on the Empire. "Compared with his imperial visions, his home appeared to be a rather poky place." One evening when he came home for dinner the poor wife had been having her troubles. "The baby had been fretful; the stove had been troublesome; and everything had gone wrong. The imperial brow clouded, and there was thunder and lightning. The poor wife winced and wept beneath the storm; and then, smiling through her tears, she went toward her lord, laid the peevish baby in his arms, and said: 'There, now, you mind your little bit of Empire, whilst I dish the potatoes!' "

After telling that story Boreham adds this comment: "It is a fine thing to dream heroic dreams either of the future Empire or the future Church, (and he could well have added the future and world) but, in order to make those dreams come true, it is just possible that the first step towards it is to look well after the baby."

"LORD, TEACH US TO PRAY"

Long before Christ came upon the earth, men were resorting to prayer for divine help.

The people of Israel, we know, realized the power of prayer and prayed often in appeal for God's blessing in gratitude for His favors. Almost every one instinctively feels the need for prayer in time of danger and emergency.

Many people, unfortunately, do not know how to pray properly. Even the Apostles, watching as Jesus prayed, became conscious for the first time of the mighty power of a proper prayer. They could see on the Savior's face as He prayed, the reflection of a great inner peace and refreshment.

So they said to Jesus: "Lord, teach us to pray."

And Christ replied: "Pray thus ... Our Father Who art in heaven, hallowed be Thy Name.

"Thy Kingdom come, Thy will be done, on earth as it is in heaven.

"Give us this day our daily bread.

"And forgive us our debts as we also forgive our debtors. And lead us not into temptation, but deliver us from evil."

The words of the "Lord's Prayer" are enshrined, of course, in the hearts of Christians everywhere. And yet Christ, in giving us this most beautiful prayer of all, did not tell us to "Pray this." He said: "Pray thus."

He meant that we must pray with the realization that God is truly our Father ... that His Name is to be revered as no other ... that His Will is to be done here and hereafter ... that we are to be truly sorry for our injustices to others, and forgive those who injure us ... and that we are to avoid sin.

People who question the value of prayer usually say they have tried it and "it didn't work." They mean by this, of course, that God did not grant the things for which they prayed. A better understanding of proper prayer would make clear to them that petition for God's favor is only one kind of prayer ... and that God does not grant every favor which we may want or think we need.

Proper prayer is not merely a petition for blessings, but also an expression of our love, our devotion and our gratitude to God ... a declaration of our acceptance of God as our Father ... a submission of our wishes and our will to the wishes and the Will of God.

Every day ... in every land and every tongue ... a mighty chorus of prayer rises from the hearts of Catholics to honor God — to implore His blessing — to pay Him grateful thanks. For the Church teaches ... and Catholics know ... that there is no power in the hands of men so great as the power of prayer.

The most famous collection of prayers known to history is the Book of Psalms ... prayers in which God Himself teaches us clearly the dispositions with which we should pray.

To help you in your prayers, we will send you a beautifully illustrated edition of the Book of Psalms free of charge. Write today and ask for your copy of Book of Psalms No. 11 — KC.

For Dusty Concrete

If your concrete floor "dusts," wet it down with a solution of three pounds of zinc sulphate to a gallon of water. Pour this on and work it well into the concrete. Let it dry, then brush clean. This will bind loose particles and harden the surface.

Buckling Panels

Buckling of panels of interior finish fiber board, caused by installation in buildings, where concrete or plaster has not dried, will usually disappear when normal room temperature and humidity is restored.

Prevents Tarnishing

Copper gutters and flashing can be kept from tarnishing by coating them with spar varnish or clear lacquer. Spar varnish usually is very satisfactory.

When Not to Paint

Outdoor painting should not be done when the temperature is below 50 degrees or above 90 degrees.

Wood Scratches

Painting Time Is Here Again, So Brush Up

Any paint job can be ruined if the surfaces to be painted, such as walls, are not free from dust. Use a clean dust mop for a thorough wiping down of all walls. Kitchen walls, which usually have a grease film on them, should be washed with wall cleaner before painting.

The kitchen wall behind a stove can be protected from spattering grease by giving it a coat of pure white shellac. A wet rag then will remove all grease spots at any time.

Buy or borrow a stepladder for home painting and repair jobs. Never rely on makeshift arrangements, such as putting a chair on a table. Too many persons are injured every year from such carelessness.

Remove all hardware from doors, windows and walls and loosen lighting fixtures before painting. If you cannot do this, cover all metal parts with petroleum jelly so paint splatters will wipe off.

Foods pick up paint odors. If you cannot obtain odorless paint, keep butter, cream, pies, cakes and juices in tightly sealed dishes.

Protect all window glass and mirrors when you paint a room. Cover the surfaces tightly around the edge with a masking tape or a masking liquid, which will peel off easily when the painting is finished.

The showing of nailheads through a thin coat of plaster is caused by rust forming on the nailheads. Touching up nailheads with shellac with prevent rust.

A thin coat of white or aluminum paint on a screen will make the interior of the house less visible from the outside.

Plan Carefully In Laying Plans For New House

Like choosing the best mate for life, building and planning the best home is an individual matter.

Everybody's tastes differ—what pleases one person can appear insipid to another. But one rule is basic: All successful houses are designed from the inside out, according to home economists.

A prospective home builder's first requirement is to know what he or she really wants. Here are some principles of good planning, taken from a Tile Council of America report, that will help the home builder, start right.

1. Site planning: House should be well related to the street. Provide parking space, inviting entrance and well-laid-out garden.

2. Orient the home: Face it (in relation to compass points) to enjoy sun and breeze, protection against winter wind.

3. Livability: Plan flexible, double-duty use of rooms. A utility-playroom with walls and floor of rugged material is ideal for the kids' active games and sensible for the homemaker's laundering and sewing chores. A study-bedroom is an escape for the adults who want solitude.

4. Plan comfort: Have plenty of daylight, ventilation in every room. Accident-free stairs, doors and floors are plan essentials.

5. Include easy maintenance: In kitchen, baths and recreation room which are used constantly install waterproof, easy-to-clean material for wall and floor surfaces. Dirt, dust and water can be cleaned in a jiffy with a damp mop.

6. Insulation: An insulated home works year round by taking the chill out of home in winter, reduces drafts and stuffiness in rooms and lowers fuel bills.

7. Plan for the future: A plan that provides for future changes and expansion will mean less expense later.

Trees Are Subject To Harm While Home Is Built

Owners of new houses are warned to see that earth or building materials are not piled high around trunks or over roots of shade trees. Trees are suffocated by these materials or by the packed earth. In either case, the air supply to roots is cut off. Like almost all living things, roots need air.

Changing the soil level is one of the prime reasons trees decline and succumb. Trucks and even trampling of workers' feet may pack the soil so hard that air cannot penetrate.

Other practices that may spell disaster for fine shade trees are spilling paint, mortar and other chemicals over root areas. Cables tied about trunks in building operations also may girdle trees and cause their death. A carelessly operated bulldozer that scrapes protective bark can seriously injure trees.

In many cases, home sites are selected because of the desirable trees. If they are destroyed, the owner loses the comfort and beauty of their presence and must pay for their removal.

Brighten Awnings

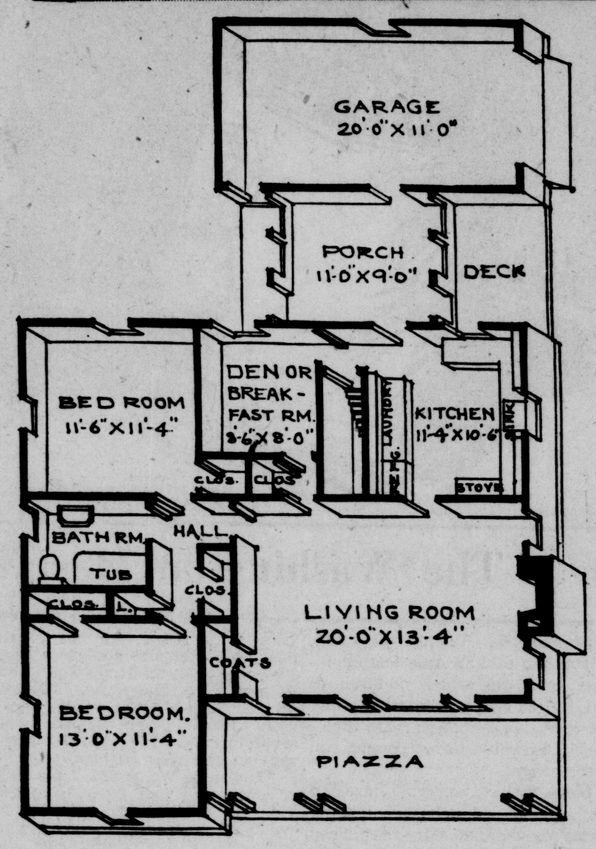

Faded awnings may be given a new lease on life by dyeing them or painting them with ordinary house paint which should be thinned with one-fourth turpentine. Paint should be brushed out thin and left to dry thoroughly before the awning is folded.

Tightening a Hammer

Shrunk by drying, a hammer handle will tighten its grip on the hammer if it is soaked in warm water.

THE PUEBLO

Well Suited For Corner Lot

Rooms	Five
Bedrooms	Two
Closets	Six
Cubage	19,900 ft.
Dimensions	29' x 35'

With measurements of 29'x35' "The Pueblo" is longer than it is wide; this lifts it out of the category of the conventional ranch house design. Cubage of the house is 19,000 feet; cubage of the garage is 3500 feet.

While any type of finish can be used for the exterior of "The Pueblo," shingles are especially appropriate for this simple, homey type of house. Lattice work on the three posts of the front porch and the decorative scroll work below the roof add to the appeal of the front of the house, form an attractive frame for the living-room picture window.

In addition to enhancing the decorative appeal of "The Pueblo," the front porch performs the practical function of protecting the front doorway. While the front door opens directly on the 20'x13'4" living room, there is a large closet, just to the left of the door, which will make an ideal and convenient storage place for all your visitors' wraps.

Because there are two windows in the right living room wall as well as the previously mentioned picture window in the front wall, this room is assured of plenty of light and ventilation. The large fireplace, centered in the right wall, is a very attractive decorative feature of this spacious, well planned room.

Dual Purpose Room

In "The Pueblo" there is no dining room proper; hence, the living room must do double duty. Place your dining room set near the back wall where it will be but a few steps from the door to the kitchen.

Measuring 11'4"x10'6", the kitchen is so planned that every inch is put to use. Working counters, cupboards and cabinets line the back, and right walls of the room. The sink is placed under the window centered in the right wall; the other kitchen window is in the back wall and looks out on the side deck.

Against the front wall is the selected location for the stove; it is just a short distance from the refrigerator which is placed against the left wall. Laundry equipment occupies the rest of the left wall area. Taking clothes out to hang them up in the yard is no problem from this first floor laundry area; the door in the back wall leads to the porch and from there it is easy to go to the yard.

Stairs to the full cement basement separate the kitchen from the den or breakfast room; this can see service all day through as the family eating area. Measuring 8'6x8', the den or breakfast room receives ample light and ventilation through the one window in its back wall. No housewife will be puzzled for long as to what use to make of the closet to the left of the door from the living room to the den or breakfast room.

The porch can be screened or glass enclosed and used as an extra room. As it measures 11'x9', it is easily large enough to be made into a first floor utility room, if you so desire. This porch also provides protection for the side entrance to the 20'x11' garage. One window in the back wall and another in the front provide plenty of good light and ventilation for this one car garage. There is ample storage area in the garage also.

The left wing of the house proper is occupied by two bedrooms and the all modern bath. Two windows, one in the back wall and another in the left wall, assure the 11'6"x11'4" back bedroom of good light and cross ventilation. This room has one large closet in the right wall.

Located between the two bedrooms in "The Pueblo," the good-sized bathroom contains both a tub and a shower. The bath is amply lighted and ventilated by one window in the left wall.

One window in the left wall and another in the front wall provide plenty of light and excellent cross ventilation for the master bedroom. Because this room is designed to be shared by two people, the closet, in the back wall, is unusually large. The long unbroken right wall in this 13' x11'4" room greatly facilitates the arrangement of large furniture pieces.

Blueprints Available

Complete plans and specifications for this house and all other "Home of the Week" designs are available at moderate cost. For plan prices, write to the Home Building Editor, Dept. 24, Kingston Daily Freeman and enclose a self-addressed, 3c stamped envelope. Allow 7 to 10 days for a reply.

Lactic Acid Paint

A new basic type of paint, which is stated to be tough and serviceable, has been developed from lactic acid, which is the souring factor in milk, by Dr. Paul D. Watson of the U. S. Department of Agriculture. Lactic acid can be produced in great quantities from whey, a by-product of the cheese industry. It is understood that this type of paint is still in the laboratory stage, but may have potentials in the paint industry.

The elements of vacuum tubes used in the largest models of hearing aids are of nickel filament wire, only one-tenth as thick as human hair.

Putty Won't Do

Ordinary putty should not be used in setting glass in steel sash because it won't hold up under the expansion between the metal and the glass. Whiting putty with 5 per cent of litharge should be used for this job.

Pigments for White

The pigments used in white paint are usually white lead, zinc oxide, titanium oxide or lithopone. Some times more than one of these pigments are combined.

For Dusty Concrete

If your concrete floor "dusts," wet it down with a solution of three pounds of zinc sulphate to a gallon of water. Pour this on and work it well into the concrete. Let it dry, then brush clean. This will bind loose particles and harden the surface.

Buckling Panels

Buckling of panels of interior finish fiber board, caused by installation in buildings, where concrete or plaster has not dried, will usually disappear when normal room temperature and humidity is restored.

Prevents Tarnishing

Copper gutters and flashing can be kept from tarnishing by coating them with spar varnish or clear lacquer. Spar varnish usually is very satisfactory.

When Not to Paint

Outdoor painting should not be done when the temperature is below 50 degrees or above 90 degrees.

Wood Scratches

Color scratches on dark woods by rubbing them with a commercial scratch remover, oil stain, or rottenstone and linseed oil.

According to the Machinery and Allied Products Institute, capital invested per employe in all industry including agriculture is $11.200.

YOUNG HELPERS OVERSEAS

The Point Four program, which many people see as the embodiment of the hope for a stable development of the world, is not being carried out by government interests alone. Private organizations, such as The Industrial Development Placement Association, are helping to develop the backward areas.

The aim of this association, organized by a group of students and young professions, is to place qualified young Americans in technical assistance jobs in underdeveloped areas. One of the experts already is George Shepard, who has a Ph. D. degree from the London School of Economics. He is working with the Federation of Partnerships of Uganda African Farmers in an attempt to galvanize it into an effective economic unit that can make a major contribution to the development of Uganda. The IDPA has also recruited Patricia McMahon from Michigan State College. She has gone to India at the request of the Indian Peasant Movement. Her job will be to spend time in a typical Indian village and to help the villagers meet their problems effectively and intelligently.

Perhaps the main asset of this promising group is its youth, which overlooks obstacles which might discourage older, more experienced technical experts. The boundless energies and natural friendliness of these young people will stand them in good stead. Their enthusiastic spirit coupled with their familiarity with the latest technical skills bid fair to compensate for their lack of experience.

The International Development Placement Association, operating literally on a financial shoestring, is one of youth's answers to the challenge of a war-weary, discouraged old world.

HARDING'S GOOD DEED

The Harding administration is for many Americans unpleasant to recall. It had its achievements, however, and Harding himself was a kindly man whose instincts often led him to praiseworthy actions.

One such is mentioned in ex-President Hoover's new volume of memoirs. This was Harding's intercession to end the 12-hour day and seven-day week in the steel industry. Pleas by prominent churchmen and others had had no effect on Judge Elbert H. Gary, chairman of the board of the United States Steel Co. Finally Harding took a hand, and in a letter to Gary, which the White House gave out to the papers, the president asked for the ending of this inhuman system of labor. Gary could not resist a request from the president, especially when of his own party; and his corporation took the desired steps, to be followed by others.

This act may well counterbalance some of the undesirable activities connected with the officials of the administration.

FATE OF AN ARBITER

The one absolute dictator in American life has been curbed. In his domain the baseball umpire reigns supreme. His verdict on the play goes, and any player who objects gets tossed out of the game. Appeal from his decisions is useless, as the league presidents know better than to start a precedent by overruling the umpire's judgment.

There is a limit for all dictators, however, and that goes also for umpires. President Warren Giles of the National League has fined Umpire Scotty Robb for pushing the St. Louis manager, Eddie Stanky, during an argument over a called strike. Stanky was fined $50, and the player who struck out lost $25 for his part in the argument. The umpire's fine was not announced, except that President Giles says that it was larger than that of the two players put together. Another time the penalty might be suspension.

Hereafter umpires will do well to remember the ancient ruler who had a servant stationed at his chair at meals to say, "Remember, sire, that you are mortal."

The year 1952 will see a literary event of some sort. This fall there will appear what the publishers describe as the longest novel ever written. The author, Madison A. Cooper, Jr., of Waco, Tex., has been working on it for 11 years, and the book is nearly finished. It is a story of a Texas town in the first 20 years of the century, but its title is not yet chosen. The outstanding feature is that it will have 2,870 pages, or 840,000 words.

'These Days'

THE EUROPEAN POLICY

Sooner or later, it will have to come out that in spite of the expenditure of billions of dollars, our policy in Western Europe has failed in its essential objective, which is the ultimate defeat of Soviet Russia by diplomacy, psychology or war. Further, that although the American taxpayer has spent tens of billions of dollars on defense since 1945, our army and air force are inferior to those of Soviet Russia. Secretary of Defense Lovett confirms that, but only to frighten Congress into giving him more money.

Thus far, NATO has not produced anything like the army which General Eisenhower envisaged when he asked Congress to give him four divisions. At Lisbon, NATO was reorganized, with an Englishman, Lord Ismay, at its head. The explanation that it is not Eisenhower's plan that we meet Russia man for man, plane for plane, as General Alfred Gruenther has been saying in his speeches in this country, can only be accepted as a recession toward the position of Herbert Hoover, who has opposed the widespread use of American ground troops in Europe.

NATO's initial task is to produce a European army. That has not been accomplished. Those who speak of NATO's success have little point to make, except that a Eurcpean war did not happen in 1951 nor is there immediate prospect of war in 1952.

For this, NATO cannot take credit, as Russia could today take the initiative in a fighting war, if Stalin wanted to do that, with little fear of effective resistance on the continent of Europe. The reason that war has not come is that the Russians are convinced that they are successful in Asia, which is important to them, and that they are damaging the economy of the United States without firing a shot or losing a man.

The so-called Russian "peace" campaign is based on the assumption that if the United States is forced to spend huge sums on rearming itself and all the non-Soviet countries, the burden will be too great to carry and the American economy will collapse.

Meanwhile, they are building an East-West trade designed not only to supply them but to embarrass us. A phase of this embarrassment is the conflict between the United States and Great Britain over the economic future of Japan, a conflict which can force Japan into the arms of Soviet Russia.

Trade will flow wherever it can without regard to political issues. Even in time of war, trade tries to move where it has no business to go, often through neutral countries. It is like the matter of Polish hams, which have found their way into the American market in spite of the fact that the sale of Polish commodities provides Poland with American dollars, which, in Europe, are of political as well as economic value.

A reader sent me a letter on this subject, written two years ago by Martha Deane, the radio commentator, in which Miss Deane quotes the Atalanta Products Corporation:

". . . And we certainly cannot expect to retain or win the favor of friendly peoples in satellite nations under Russian domination, if we insist on treating them all as lepers, incapable of producing even a canned ham without Communist contamination. . . ."

Who are these friendly people? Poland is today as much a part of the Soviet empire as Russia or China or Czechoslovakia. That empire seeks our destruction and the flow of dollars in its direction is a peril to our stability. Belatedly, the State Department has reduced the trade between the United States and Soviet countries and now has cut off travel, all of which is correct because it reduces the flow of dollars.

It is a definite phase of the Russian program to encourage the East-West trade, which supplies them with commodities they require and increases the flow of American dollars into Soviet countries. The economy of the Soviet empire is dominated by the Kremlin without regard to national barriers and is used to achieve political as well as economic ends. It is the very same method that the Kremlin employed to encourage British trade in Soviet China in order to separate Great Britain from the United States politically.

NATO is too limited in scope and places too great a burden upon one country, the United States. Our policy must be related to our own economy, if we are to survive this war of attrition.

That Body of Yours

NEW JOURNAL BY DIABETES ASSOCIATION

When Drs. Banting and Best produced insulin, which enabled the diabetic to live out his normal life span, the disease diabetes became of little further interest to many of us. What we did not realize, and still do not realize, is that hundreds of thousands of diabetics, notwithstanding the boon of insulin, must be careful how they live and anything and everything that can help the physician to make them comfortable and safe is greatly needed.

To meet the great need for extra information, the American Diabetes Association has inaugurated Diabetes, the Journal of the American Diabetes Association. The new journal, which will appear bimonthly beginning with the January-February, 1952, issue, will be devoted to clinical and research reports on diabetes and related aspects of medicine. The editor is Dr. Frank N. Allan, Lahey Clinic, Boston, Mass. He will have a distinguished editorial board under the chairmanship of Charles H. Best, M.D., of the University of Toronto, co-discoverer with the late Sir Frederick Banting of insulin and its control of diabetes.

According to Dr. Best, "The major purpose of Diabetes will be to give the medical profession, and particularly the practising physician, information that will help him to improve the treatment of diabetes and allied disorders." The journal will also be of interest to scientists since it will publish many of the important findings from laboratories working in the problem of these diseases. As with other medical and health journals, Diabetes will include abstracts of papers that appear in scientific papers here and abroad.

It is fitting that the honorary president of the American Diabetes Association should be Dr. Elliott F. Joslin, Boston, the outstanding authority in diabetes. As there are at present thirty branches or affiliate Diabetes Associations throughout the country, the news about diabetes from all these branch organizations with their successes and failures will provide much helpful information. It will also help to avoid failures or lack of success along the various lines of research which are being followed by these thirty or more branches.

Correspondence concerning both editorial and business matters and manuscripts of interest to the editors should be addressed to the Editorial Offices, Diabetes, American Diabetes Association, Inc., 11 West 42nd street, New York 18, N. Y.

The Great Uncovering, or His One Redeeming Act

The Washington Merry-Go-Round

By DREW PEARSON

Washington—Twenty years ago, if you had told an American diplomat that the school children of the United States would be taking an active part in American diplomacy, he would have thought you were crazy.

Nevertheless, several thousand high-school and primary students today are doing exactly that. They have written messages to their fellow students in other countries which are being broadcast every day over the Voice of America in the following languages: Russian, Bulgarian, Czech, Finnish, Korean, Japanese, Yugoslav, German, Arabic, Hebraic, Indonesian, Hungarian, Thai, Italian, Burmese and French.

In many cases these student messages are a lot more appealing, more sincere, more genuine than the skilled propaganda of the high-powered specialist. They should have real impact on people behind the Iron Curtain, because those who hear them will recognize that they are from the heart, that they come from young Americans who have no ax to grind, who want to get along with other people.

In Orlando, Florida, for instance, one of the winners is a Negro boy, Bobby Hightower, who has written this message:

"I live in America, the land of the free. I love and cherish this country, not just because I was born here or because I feel that the American way of life is perfect. I love it simply because it is the land of the free. . . . My religious beliefs are not the same as my neighbors, but I worship as I please; my neighbors worship as they please. Yet we're the best of friends. Soon, I will enter college. There it is my privilege to follow the career and occupation of my choice . . .

"I love America and I'm willing to shed blood to preserve our liberties, our freedoms, our opportunities . . ."

Refuting Moscow's Lies

This from a southern American city is a lot different from the constant yammering of the Moscow radio that the favorite sport of American cities on Sunday is lynching Negroes. When I was in France last month, I learned unfortunately that even some of the French people have swallowed these lies.

Bobby Hightower's message will be recorded by him personally at the Voice of America in New York today; for the patriotic people of Orlando have paid his expenses to New York, together with the other Florida winner, Ken Melrose of the Cherokee Junior High School, who wrote an inspiring appeal for removing the iron curtain.

"You see, we could have fun if you could just come over the iron curtain," he wrote. "I'll bet we like the same things most kids do. If we could just be friends, we wouldn't worry about wars because you don't fight your friends. Let's be friends."

Other young authors of winning messages are coming to New York today from various parts of the country, among them another Negro boy Booker T. Washington of Wichita, Kas., which also may be a shock to Moscow. They will broadcast direct to Russia, see New York, and appear on my radio and TV programs Sunday evening.

There are a lot of other winners; also several thousand other youngsters who, while not winning prizes in their areas, wrote beautiful and inspiring letters which are being beamed around the world in 16 languages every day.

To have your letter picked for translation into 16 languages is in itself an honor. However, the Voice of America can use a great many more of these letters, so schools should continue sending them in. They can be not only a patriotic contribution to the nation, but many teachers have found them a stimulant to clear classroom thinking about the ideals of the U.S.A.

Amazed Mr. Morse

When Sen. Wayne Morse of Oregon heard the extravagant claims to presidential power made by government Attorney Holmes Baldridge in the steel dispute, he remarked:

"How did that guy ever get that job?"

"You recommended him," promptly replied Ivar Peterson, Morse's former administrative assistant, now on the National Labor Relations Board.

"It's impossible," remonstrated Morse.

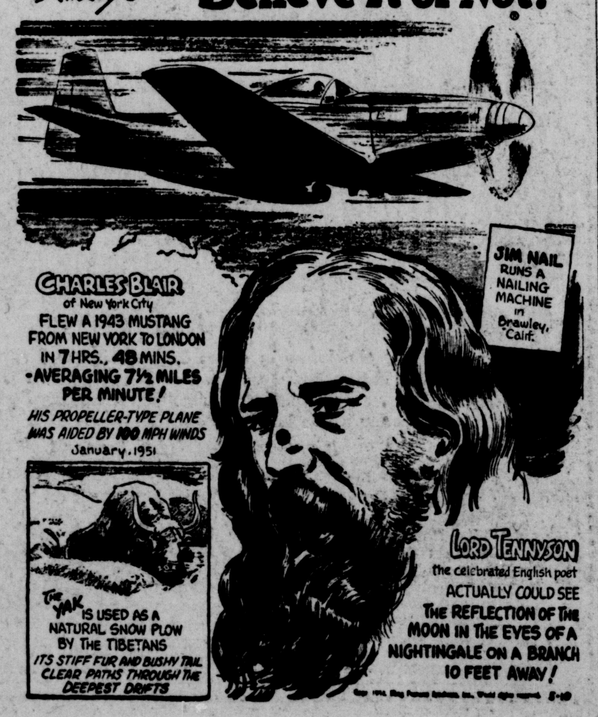

"Okay, I'll show you the evidence," replied Peterson and fished out of the files a copy of a letter Morse had written the White House endorsing Baldridge as assistant attorney general.

Note — Baldridge has had a good record as a trust-buster, argued one important case for the government against General Motors, which he won.

Washington Pipeline

Elliott Roosevelt, son of the late president, and Ed Rivers, Jr., son of the ex-governor of Georgia, are teaming up for television in various parts of the south. There was a time when their fathers didn't get along so well together . . . Jim McGranery, the new attorney general, will not get a free hand in reorganizing the Justice Department. HST has decided to pass on all Justice officials himself . . . Nine Nobel Prize scientists have put the bee on Joliot-Curie, the French Communist scientist for signing a statement that the United States was using germ warfare in Korea. The American Nobel Prize winners have demanded that Curie withdraw his name from the Communist message and join them in demanding a fair investigation of the charges . . . Everybody is going in for political comic books these days. Congressman Clint McKinnon of California has published one on "The Little Giant Killer," while another is coming out soon on Eisenhower . . . Among the first people to go through the new White House were columnist Leonard Lyons and his boys. They got a personally conducted tour by Mrs. Truman . . . Secretary of the Interior Oscar Chapman got a rare tribute the other day—from a Republican. A. P. Frame, his retiring deputy oil administrator, wrote: "Now, Mr. Secretary, as a Republican, I cannot truthfully wish that you continue as secretary of the interior for the next presidential term, but I can most sincerely say that I hope, for the good of our country, the next secretary of the interior will be a man with your integrity, courage and administrative ability."

THE RUMINATOR

By HUMPHREY B. NEILL
A Column of Contrary Opinion

The answer to what's going to happen in 1952 lies in the changes in public psychology.

One could not conjure up more events of crises to influence peoples' minds than exist at present and are likely to occur in the months ahead.

You can read statistics until you're blue in the face but they will not tell you what's going to happen.

We are up against the human equation more than at any time I can recall.

Take the past week merely as an example. The changes brought about by the steel seizure case were so rapid that the radio commentators could hardly keep up with them. It got so that one wondered what the next hour would bring forth. And it decidedly is not settled yet. Almost anything can happen while the nation awaits the Supreme Court hearings and the later rulings. And for all that is known as this is written something may suddenly develop that will nullify the hearings and there won't be any! However, the Ruminator feels confident that the great majority of people earnestly hope that the steel case will go before the Supreme Court in order that the basic question of "executive authority" will be argued and ruled upon.

During this waiting period public psychology will swing back and forth. The union members, a great number of whom naturally only weigh the matter in the scales of their own well-being, may become impatient and stirred up over the delay. Being interested in their own futures more than in the acedemic decision of constitutional authority they may take into their heads to demonstrate their dissatisfaction by absenteeism, by wildcat strikes, or by slow-downs in the plants. The longer a decision is postponed the more likelihood is there for demonstrations of some kind.

So, we can expect the steel controversy to cause unsettlement for a time, in any event.

As the time approaches for the nominating conventions to be held, influences from this quarter also will be felt. Thus far no marked effect of the Republican campaigns has been noticeable, but as the contest becomes hotter between Senator Taft and General Eisenhower people will be influenced. The general's popularity is very contagious, but obviously the crowds that now look upon him as their idol and candidate have not the remotest notion of where he stands on many of the vital issues confronting us. It is a case of "We like Ike" regardless of issues. Senator Taft, on the other hand, is gaining his delegates and following by fighting and plugging. Unfortunately, for the Republican party, there is bound to be a wide split because people who dislike Taft dislike him bitterly. Thus, as he gains more and more adherents those who dislike him will begin to fear what will happen if he is nominated. It is doubtful if the majority of Eisenhower followers will enthusiastically back up Taft if Taft should be nominated. However, this of course is wholly conjectural, as the outcome is still uncertain.

A Taft victory at Chicago would be looked upon as more "deflationary" on business prospects than would an Eisenhower victory. This, too, is merely "sentiment" because none of us know where the general stands in the matter of "spending." We know that he is more of an "internationalist" than Taft, but he has given broad hints that he thinks we can overdo this outpouring of billions which has been the policies of both the New and the Fair Deals. Eisenhower may be far more conservative than we think, although he is gaining the following of thousands who look upon him as a "liberal." (The best definition of a modern liberal is "one who is liberal with other peoples' money.")

Until July, then, we'll be changing our minds constantly. During June we may get some concrete ideas on Eisenhower's philosophy, but he is unlikely to open himself up to an all-out debate on issues.

When things are uncertain—as they are now—the common result in public psychology is to witness caution and hesitancy. People who fear upsets are prone to take it easy in their spending habits. The threat of strikes hangs constantly over the heads of thousands of housewives. They will naturally hold the purse strings tighter than if the outlook were less threatening.

It is from these angles that the Ruminator believes that public opinion and public fears, and not statistics, will give us the answer to the remainder of 1952. It would not seem foolhardy to be cautious, also, for another few months.

Do You Remember

By SOPHIE MILLER

I looked back recently into the news items of May 5, 1897, published in the old "Daily Express," which was printed right here on my own block, where as a youngster I glued my nose to the big plate glass window and watched the making of the paper. Little did I know then, before I could read and write, or enjoy a newspaper, that a day would come when the "Daily Express" would be no more and that copies of it would interest me no end. That is the power of the printed page. Who is the one who said, the "News of today is the shelf paper tomorrow." So it be. But that same shelf paper if left there long enough becomes interesting reading all over again. My father used to say often when he was enjoying some newspaper item, "how lucky a person is who can read and write." He knew several languages but in later years he only read American papers with pleasure, for he said they were such easy reading and with so many interesting pictures.

The item I found in the May 5, 1897 "Express" is about the Hudson River Telephone Co. long before our present system came here. It said, "At a recent meeting of the telephone company, which took place at Albany, it was decided to supply all the offices of the company along the Hudson river with asbestos blankets and a pail of sand, to be used in case of emergency in smothering a fire."

With Kingston now in the midst of its 300th Anniversary it is interesting to learn how the famous Hudson-Fulton Celebration came about. Like Peter Keresman, secretary of the Police Conference of the State of New York, often says, "Nothing happens unless someone makes it happen." It seems, that on July 31, 1893, a letter was printed in the "New York Tribune" commenting on the Columbian celebration at the time and proposing the 300th Anniversary of the Hudson River in 1909. This letter was signed by the Rev. J. B. Suydam, of Rhinebeck. That letter set off the sparks which brought appropriations from the State of New York, City of New York and through voluntary subscriptions of some quarter of a million dollars. It is said, contributions came in from two cents to $10,000. It is also said, that Kingston gave or contributed or collected some $6,999.96, which no doubt was used for the bringing of the naval parade, the pageantry, lighting the streets and other incidentals of the three-day celebration here.

That was the time the famous replica of the "Clermont" and also "Half-Moon" were brought to Kingston. The "Clermont" was later parked in the lagoon of the Kingston Point Park. As this boat was able to travel on its own power and cost much money and effort to make, there were stipulations made that it was to remain in good condition and for the historical pleasure of the people of the state. Why, and how come, the machinery was later sold? So far I have never learned the details. The "Half-Moon," which was made with Holland talent and was a thing of artistic beauty, was on exhibition further up the river, and later burned. That is a story in itself. Our city could have been famous by the proper advertising of having the Clermont replica in running order in our midst. Events could have been planned around here every year, but now, of course, it is too late.

RIFTON

Rifton, May 10—There will be Sunday school at 10:30 a. m., at the Rifton Methodist Church and church services at 2:30 p. m. The Rev. W. C. Herron will use Moulders of Destiny as his topic for Mothers' Day.

Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Skellett and family of Binghamton visited at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Wheeler.

John Grady is home from the hospital. Richard Eckert is in the Benedictine Hospital with a broken ankle. Ed Balfe has been ill at home. George Ruehl also has been ill at home.

Mrs. Walker is ill at home and Mrs. Warren Neer, Sr., is in the Kingston Hospital.

There was a chimney fire at the Rifton Rock schoolhouse Monday morning.

A school meeting was held Tuesday when Mrs. John Brown was elected treasurer collector for next year. William Zacker was elected trustee for three years to take the place of Mathew Rimmi, whose term expired. There were 58 taxpayers present at the meeting which was held at the firehouse instead of the schoolhouse on account of the fire.

Mrs. R. DeBuhr and son, Altman of Mountainside, N. J., visited at home of Mr. and Mrs. George Ruehl.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Gentz of Riverdale visited at the homes of Mrs. M. Deluge, Mrs. M. Brix and Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Ruehl.

YOUNG HELPERS OVERSEAS

The Point Four program, which many people see as the embodiment of the hope for a stable development of the world, is not being carried out by government interests alone. Private organizations, such as The Industrial Development Placement Association, are helping to develop the backward areas.

The aim of this association, organized by a group of students and young professions, is to place qualified young Americans in technical assistance jobs in underdeveloped areas. One of the experts already is George Shepard, who has a Ph. D. degree from the London School of Economics. He is working with the Federation of Partnerships of Uganda African Farmers in an attempt to galvanize it into an effective economic unit that can make a major contribution to the development of Uganda. The IDPA has also recruited Patricia McMahon from Michigan State College. She has gone to India at the request of the Indian Peasant Movement. Her job will be to spend time in a typical Indian village and to help the villagers meet their problems effectively and intelligently.

Perhaps the main asset of this promising group is its youth, which overlooks obstacles which might discourage older, more experienced technical experts. The boundless energies and natural friendliness of these young people will stand them in good stead. Their enthusiastic spirit coupled with their familiarity with the latest technical skills bid fair to compensate for their lack of experience.

The International Development Placement Association, operating literally on a financial shoestring, is one of youth's answers to the challenge of a war-weary, discouraged old world.

HARDING'S GOOD DEED

The Harding administration is for many Americans unpleasant to recall. It had its achievements, however, and Harding himself was a kindly man whose instincts often led him to praiseworthy actions.

One such is mentioned in ex-President Hoover's new volume of memoirs. This was Harding's intercession to end the 12-hour day and seven-day week in the steel industry. Pleas by prominent churchmen and others had had no effect on Judge Elbert H. Gary, chairman of the board of the United States Steel Co. Finally Harding took a hand, and in a letter to Gary, which the White House gave out to the papers, the president asked for the ending of this inhuman system of labor. Gary could not resist a request from the president, especially when of his own party; and his corporation took the desired steps, to be followed by others.

This act may well counterbalance some of the undesirable activities connected with the officials of the administration.

FATE OF AN ARBITER

The one absolute dictator in American life has been curbed. In his domain the baseball umpire reigns supreme. His verdict on the play goes, and any player who objects gets tossed out of the game. Appeal from his decisions is useless, as the league presidents know better than to start a precedent by overruling the umpire's judgment.

There is a limit for all dictators, however, and that goes also for umpires. President Warren Giles of the National League has fined Umpire Scotty Robb for pushing the St. Louis manager, Eddie Stanky, during an argument over a called strike. Stanky was fined $50, and the player who struck out lost $25 for his part in the argument. The umpire's fine was not announced, except that President Giles says that it was larger than that of the two players put together. Another time the penalty might be suspension.

Hereafter umpires will do well to remember the ancient ruler who had a servant stationed at his chair at meals to say, "Remember, sire, that you are mortal."

The year 1952 will see a literary event of some sort. This fall there will appear what the publishers describe as the longest novel ever written. The author, Madison A. Cooper, Jr., of Waco, Tex., has been working on it for 11 years, and the book is nearly finished. It is a story of a Texas town in the first 20 years of the century, but its title is not yet chosen. The outstanding feature is that it will have 2,870 pages, or 840,000 words.

'These Days'

THE EUROPEAN POLICY

Sooner or later, it will have to come out that in spite of the expenditure of billions of dollars, our policy in Western Europe has failed in its essential objective, which is the ultimate defeat of Soviet Russia by diplomacy, psychology or war. Further, that although the American taxpayer has spent tens of billions of dollars on defense since 1945, our army and air force are inferior to those of Soviet Russia. Secretary of Defense Lovett confirms that, but only to frighten Congress into giving him more money.

Thus far, NATO has not produced anything like the army which General Eisenhower envisaged when he asked Congress to give him four divisions. At Lisbon, NATO was reorganized, with an Englishman, Lord Ismay, at its head. The explanation that it is not Eisenhower's plan that we meet Russia man for man, plane for plane, as General Alfred Gruenther has been saying in his speeches in this country, can only be accepted as a recession toward the position of Herbert Hoover, who has opposed the widespread use of American ground troops in Europe.

NATO's initial task is to produce a European army. That has not been accomplished. Those who speak of NATO's success have little point to make, except that a Eurcpean war did not happen in 1951 nor is there immediate prospect of war in 1952.

For this, NATO cannot take credit, as Russia could today take the initiative in a fighting war, if Stalin wanted to do that, with little fear of effective resistance on the continent of Europe. The reason that war has not come is that the Russians are convinced that they are successful in Asia, which is important to them, and that they are damaging the economy of the United States without firing a shot or losing a man.

The so-called Russian "peace" campaign is based on the assumption that if the United States is forced to spend huge sums on rearming itself and all the non-Soviet countries, the burden will be too great to carry and the American economy will collapse.

Meanwhile, they are building an East-West trade designed not only to supply them but to embarrass us. A phase of this embarrassment is the conflict between the United States and Great Britain over the economic future of Japan, a conflict which can force Japan into the arms of Soviet Russia.

Trade will flow wherever it can without regard to political issues. Even in time of war, trade tries to move where it has no business to go, often through neutral countries. It is like the matter of Polish hams, which have found their way into the American market in spite of the fact that the sale of Polish commodities provides Poland with American dollars, which, in Europe, are of political as well as economic value.

A reader sent me a letter on this subject, written two years ago by Martha Deane, the radio commentator, in which Miss Deane quotes the Atalanta Products Corporation:

". . . And we certainly cannot expect to retain or win the favor of friendly peoples in satellite nations under Russian domination, if we insist on treating them all as lepers, incapable of producing even a canned ham without Communist contamination. . . ."

Who are these friendly people? Poland is today as much a part of the Soviet empire as Russia or China or Czechoslovakia. That empire seeks our destruction and the flow of dollars in its direction is a peril to our stability. Belatedly, the State Department has reduced the trade between the United States and Soviet countries and now has cut off travel, all of which is correct because it reduces the flow of dollars.

It is a definite phase of the Russian program to encourage the East-West trade, which supplies them with commodities they require and increases the flow of American dollars into Soviet countries. The economy of the Soviet empire is dominated by the Kremlin without regard to national barriers and is used to achieve political as well as economic ends. It is the very same method that the Kremlin employed to encourage British trade in Soviet China in order to separate Great Britain from the United States politically.

NATO is too limited in scope and places too great a burden upon one country, the United States. Our policy must be related to our own economy, if we are to survive this war of attrition.

NEW JOURNAL BY DIABETES ASSOCIATION

When Drs. Banting and Best produced insulin, which enabled the diabetic to live out his normal life span, the disease diabetes became of little further interest to many of us. What we did not realize, and still do not realize, is that hundreds of thousands of diabetics, notwithstanding the boon of insulin, must be careful how they live and anything and everything that can help the physician to make them comfortable and safe is greatly needed.

To meet the great need for extra information, the American Diabetes Association has inaugurated Diabetes, the Journal of the American Diabetes Association. The new journal, which will appear bimonthly beginning with the January-February, 1952, issue, will be devoted to clinical and research reports on diabetes and related aspects of medicine. The editor is Dr. Frank N. Allan, Lahey Clinic, Boston, Mass. He will have a distinguished editorial board under the chairmanship of Charles H. Best, M.D., of the University of Toronto, co-discoverer with the late Sir Frederick Banting of insulin and its control of diabetes.

According to Dr. Best, "The major purpose of Diabetes will be to give the medical profession, and particularly the practising physician, information that will help him to improve the treatment of diabetes and allied disorders." The journal will also be of interest to scientists since it will publish many of the important findings from laboratories working in the problem of these diseases. As with other medical and health journals, Diabetes will include abstracts of papers that appear in scientific papers here and abroad.

It is fitting that the honorary president of the American Diabetes Association should be Dr. Elliott F. Joslin, Boston, the outstanding authority in diabetes. As there are at present thirty branches or affiliate Diabetes Associations throughout the country, the news about diabetes from all these branch organizations with their successes and failures will provide much helpful information. It will also help to avoid failures or lack of success along the various lines of research which are being followed by these thirty or more branches.

Correspondence concerning both editorial and business matters and manuscripts of interest to the editors should be addressed to the Editorial Offices, Diabetes, American Diabetes Association, Inc., 11 West 42nd street, New York 18, N. Y.

The Great Uncovering, or His One Redeeming Act

The Washington Merry-Go-Round

By DREW PEARSON

Washington—Twenty years ago, if you had told an American diplomat that the school children of the United States would be taking an active part in American diplomacy, he would have thought you were crazy.

Nevertheless, several thousand high-school and primary students today are doing exactly that. They have written messages to their fellow students in other countries which are being broadcast every day over the Voice of America in the following languages: Russian, Bulgarian, Czech, Finnish, Korean, Japanese, Yugoslav, German, Arabic, Hebraic, Indonesian, Hungarian, Thai, Italian, Burmese and French.

In many cases these student messages are a lot more appealing, more sincere, more genuine than the skilled propaganda of the high-powered specialist. They should have real impact on people behind the Iron Curtain, because those who hear them will recognize that they are from the heart, that they come from young Americans who have no ax to grind, who want to get along with other people.

In Orlando, Florida, for instance, one of the winners is a Negro boy, Bobby Hightower, who has written this message:

"I live in America, the land of the free. I love and cherish this country, not just because I was born here or because I feel that the American way of life is perfect. I love it simply because it is the land of the free. . . . My religious beliefs are not the same as my neighbors, but I worship as I please; my neighbors worship as they please. Yet we're the best of friends. Soon, I will enter college. There it is my privilege to follow the career and occupation of my choice . . ."

"I love America and I'm willing to shed blood to preserve our liberties, our freedoms, our opportunities . . ."

Refuting Moscow's Lies

This from a southern American city is a lot different from the constant yammering of the Moscow radio that the favorite sport of American cities on Sunday is lynching Negroes. When I was in France last month, I learned unfortunately that even some of the French people have swallowed these lies.

Bobby Hightower's message will be recorded by him personally at the Voice of America in New York today; for the patriotic people of Orlando have paid his expenses to New York, together with the other Florida winner, Ken Melrose of the Cherokee Junior High School, who wrote an inspiring appeal for removing the iron curtain.

"You see, we could have fun if you could just come over the iron curtain," he wrote. "I'll bet we like the same things most kids do. If we could just be friends, we wouldn't worry about wars because you don't fight your friends. Let's be friends."

Other young authors of winning messages are coming to New York today from various parts of the country, among them another Negro boy Booker T. Washington of Wichita, Kas., which also may be a shock to Moscow. They will broadcast direct to Russia, see New York, and appear on my radio and TV programs Sunday evening.

There are a lot of other winners; also several thousand other youngsters who, while not winning prizes in their areas, wrote beautiful and inspiring letters which are being beamed around the world in 16 languages every day.

To have your letter picked for translation into 16 languages is in itself an honor. However, the Voice of America can use a great many more of these letters, so schools should continue sending them in. They can be not only a patriotic contribution to the nation, but many teachers have found them a stimulant to clear classroom thinking about the ideals of the U.S.A.

Amazed Mr. Morse

When Sen. Wayne Morse of Oregon heard the extravagant claims to presidential power made by government Attorney Holmes Baldridge in the steel dispute, he remarked:

"How did that guy ever get that job?"

"You recommended him," promptly replied Ivar Peterson, Morse's former administrative assistant, now on the National Labor Relations Board.

"It's impossible," remonstrated Morse.

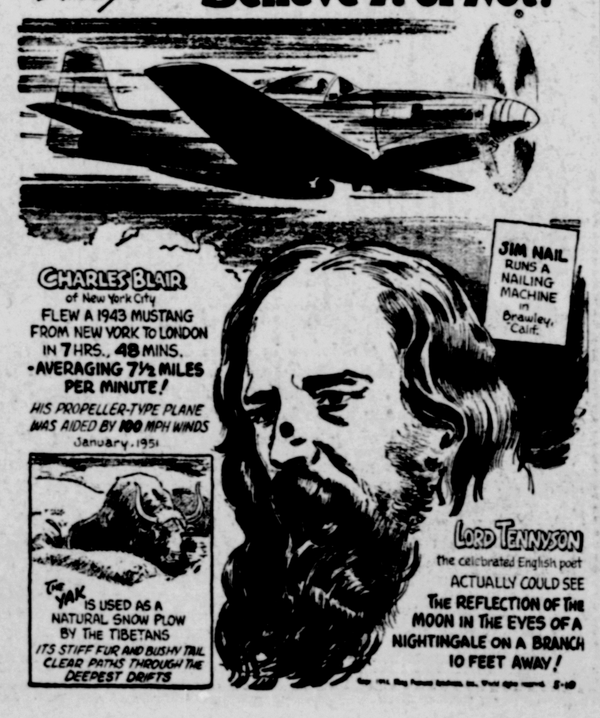

"Okay, I'll show you the evidence," replied Peterson and fished out of the files a copy of a letter Morse had written the White House endorsing Baldridge as assistant attorney general.

Note — Baldridge has had a good record as a trust-buster, argued one important case for the government against General Motors, which he won.

Washington Pipeline

Elliott Roosevelt, son of the late president, and Ed Rivers, Jr., son of the ex-governor of Georgia, are teaming up for television in various parts of the south. There was a time when their fathers didn't get along so well together . . . Jim McGranery, the new attorney general, will not get a free hand in reorganizing the Justice Department. HST has decided to pass on all Justice officials himself . . . Nine Nobel Prize scientists have put the bee on Joliot-Curie, the French Communist scientist for signing a statement that the United States was using germ warfare in Korea. The American Nobel Prize winners have demanded that Curie withdraw his name from the Communist message and join them in demanding a fair investigation of the charges . . . Everybody is going in for political comic books these days. Congressman Clint McKinnon of California has published one on "The Little Giant Killer," while another is coming out soon on Eisenhower . . . Among the first people to go through the new White House were columnist Leonard Lyons and his boys. They got a personally conducted tour by Mrs. Truman . . . Secretary of the Interior Oscar Chapman got a rare tribute the other day—from a Republican. A. P. Frame, his retiring deputy oil administrator, wrote: "Now, Mr. Secretary, as a Republican, I cannot truthfully wish that you continue as secretary of the interior for the next presidential term, but I can most sincerely say that I hope, for the good of our country, the next secretary of the interior will be a man with your integrity, courage and administrative ability."

THE RUMINATOR

By HUMPHREY B. NEILL
A Column of Contrary Opinion

The answer to what's going to happen in 1952 lies in the changes in public psychology.

One could not conjure up more events of crises to influence peoples' minds than exist at present and are likely to occur in the months ahead.

You can read statistics until you're blue in the face but they will not tell you what's going to happen.

We are up against the human equation more than at any time I can recall.

Take the past week merely as an example. The changes brought about by the steel seizure case were so rapid that the radio commentators could hardly keep up with them. It got so that one wondered what the next hour would bring forth. And it decidedly is not settled yet. Almost anything can happen while the nation awaits the Supreme Court hearings and the later rulings. And for all that is known as this is written something may suddenly develop that will nullify the hearings and there won't be any! However, the Ruminator feels confident that the great majority of people earnestly hope that the steel case will go before the Supreme Court in order that the basic question of "executive authority" will be argued and ruled upon.

During this waiting period public psychology will swing back and forth. The union members, a great number of whom naturally only weigh the matter in the scales of their own well-being, may become impatient and stirred up over the delay. Being interested in their own futures more than in the acedemic decision of constitutional authority they may take into their heads to demonstrate their dissatisfaction by absenteeism, by wildcat strikes, or by slow-downs in the plants. The longer a decision is postponed the more likelihood is there for demonstrations of some kind.

So, we can expect the steel controversy to cause unsettlement for a time, in any event.

As the time approaches for the nominating conventions to be held, influences from this quarter also will be felt. Thus far no marked effect of the Republican campaigns has been noticeable, but as the contest becomes hotter between Senator Taft and General Eisenhower people will be influenced. The general's popularity is very contagious, but obviously the crowds that now look upon him as their idol and candidate have not the remotest notion of where he stands on many of the vital issues confronting us. It is a case of "We like Ike" regardless of issues. Senator Taft, on the other hand, is gaining his delegates and following by fighting and plugging. Unfortunately, for the Republican party, there is bound to be a wide split because people who dislike Taft dislike him bitterly. Thus, as he gains more and more adherents those who dislike him will begin to fear what will happen if he is nominated. It is doubtful if the majority of Eisenhower followers will enthusiastically back up Taft if Taft should be nominated. However, this of course is wholly conjectural, as the outcome is still uncertain.

A Taft victory at Chicago would be looked upon as more "deflationary" on business prospects than would an Eisenhower victory. This, too, is merely "sentiment" because none of us know where the general stands in the matter of "spending." We know that he is more of an "internationalist" than Taft, but he has given broad hints that he thinks we can overdo this outpouring of billions which has been the policies of both the New and the Fair Deals. Eisenhower may be far more conservative than we think, although he is gaining the following of thousands who look upon him as a "liberal." (The best definition of a modern liberal is "one who is liberal with other peoples' money.")

Until July, then, we'll be changing our minds constantly. During June we may get some concrete ideas on Eisenhower's philosophy, but he is unlikely to open himself up to an all-out debate on issues.

When things are uncertain—as they are now—the common result in public psychology is to witness caution and hesitancy. People who fear upsets are prone to take it easy in their spending habits. The threat of strikes hangs constantly over the heads of thousands of housewives. They will naturally hold the purse strings tighter than if the outlook were less threatening.

It is from these angles that the Ruminator believes that public opinion and public fears, and not statistics, will give us the answer to the remainder of 1952. It would not seem foolhardy to be cautious, also, for another few months.

Do You Remember

By SOPHIE MILLER

I looked back recently into the news items of May 5, 1897, published in the old "Daily Express," which was printed right here on my own block, where as a youngster I glued my nose to the big plate glass window and watched the making of the paper. Little did I know then, before I could read and write, or enjoy a newspaper, that a day would come when the "Daily Express" would be no more and that copies of it would interest me no end. That is the power of the printed page. Who is the one who said, the "News of today is the shelf paper tomorrow." So it be. But that same shelf paper if left there long enough becomes interesting reading all over again. My father used to say often when he was enjoying some newspaper item, "how lucky a person is who can read and write." He knew several languages but in later years he only read American papers with pleasure, for he said they were such easy reading and with so many interesting pictures.

The item I found in the May 5, 1897 "Express" is about the Hudson River Telephone Co. long before our present system came here. It said, "At a recent meeting of the telephone company, which took place at Albany, it was decided to supply all the offices of the company along the Hudson river with asbestos blankets and a pail of sand, to be used in case of emergency in smothering a fire."

With Kingston now in the midst of its 300th Anniversary it is interesting to learn how the famous Hudson-Fulton Celebration came about. Like Peter Keresman, secretary of the Police Conference of the State of New York, often says, "Nothing happens unless someone makes it happen." It seems, that on July 31, 1893, a letter was printed in the "New York Tribune" commenting on the Columbian celebration at the time and proposing the 300th Anniversary of the Hudson River in 1909. This letter was signed by the Rev. J. B. Suydam, of Rhinebeck. That letter set off the sparks which brought appropriations from the State of New York, City of New York and through voluntary subscriptions of some quarter of a million dollars. It is said, contributions came in from two cents to $10,000. It is also said, that Kingston gave or contributed or collected some $6,999.96, which no doubt was used for the bringing of the naval parade, the pageantry, lighting the streets and other incidentals of the three-day celebration here.

That was the time the famous replica of the "Clermont" and also "Half-Moon" were brought to Kingston. The "Clermont" was later parked in the lagoon of the Kingston Point Park. As this boat was able to travel on its own power and cost much money and effort to make, there were stipulations made that it was to remain in good condition and for the historical pleasure of the people of the state. Why, and how come, the machinery was later sold? So far I have never learned the details. The "Half-Moon," which was made with Holland talent and was a thing of artistic beauty, was on exhibition further up the river, and later burned. That is a story in itself. Our city could have been famous by the proper advertising of having the Clermont replica in running order in our midst. Events could have been planned around here every year, but now, of course, it is too late.

You needn't look at the East hand to understand what is going on in his mind. To begin with, East must have two or three clubs headed by the jack or ten. (West surely has a fairly good club suit of five or six cards, since he is vulnerable and has doubled and has then run to two clubs.) East must also have some fast winner, probably an ace.

South should therefore foresee exactly what did happen at three no-trump. West opened a low club, and East's ten forced out South's queen. South then went after the hearts, but East promptly took the ace of hearts and led another club. The defenders took four clubs, a spade, and a heart, collecting a penalty of 500 points.

Obviously, South should have bid four hearts when he got doubled at three no-trump. Dummy had re-doubled and had raised hearts, so dummy would surely show up with at least an ace and a couple of queens.

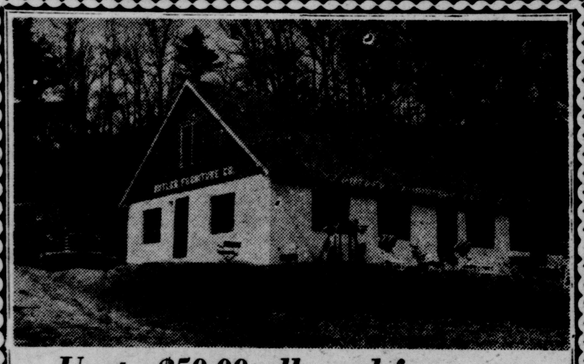

South would have made four hearts without even breathing fast. The result would have been a gain of 620 points instead of a loss of 500 points. As a matter of fact, East might have doubled four hearts also, and then South would have scored 790 points instead of only 620. A tidy little difference, in either case.

MISS JOAN ORTMANN

Placing in three divisions, with a chance to win the grand prize of a trip to Bermuda, Joan Ortmann, a resident of Hurley and a senior at Kingston High School recently won a total of $135 in the Correct Thing sewing contest conducted by the Acme Shear Company of Bridgeport, Conn.

Joan has also been invited to appear on the Acme Shear Company television show, The Correct Thing, Sunday, May 18. At that time she will be presented with a check for $100 for her prize winning coat.

Joan submitted a coat, evening dress and sports dress in the nation-wide contest which was open to teen-age girls. Acme Shear Company, the sponsors, are the country's largest manufactures of shears and scissors.

The coat won first place in the classification. For the evening dress, Joan received $25 and a third place rating, and the sports dress, a fourth place prize of $10. The first prize coat not only won a $100 for Joan but also makes her eligible for the grand prize, a trip to Bermuda. Final judging for grand prizes will take place at 10 a. m. Saturday, May 17 at the Astor Hotel, New York.

Joan has studied sewing for seven years both with the 4-H group in Hurley, where her instructor for three years was Mrs. Edmund Brown. Now Joan instructs the Hurley group. This year she is also studying sewing with Mrs. Bella Crook, high school instructor.

Other Honors

This is the fourth time that Joan has been honored this year for her ability as a fine seamstress. In September 1951, she was selected on the basis of achievement to attend the New York State 4-H Club Congress.

Two months later all Joan's expenses were paid to the National 4-H Congress in Chicago for an entire week as New York State dress review winner. And two months ago Joan was selected to model her winning ensemble at Farm and Home Week, Ithaca, N. Y. Joan was the only high school student in the state honored in this way.

BOND ORDINANCE OF THE CITY OF KINGSTON, N. Y., ADOPTED MAY 6, 1952, AUTHORIZING STREET IMPROVEMENTS IN THE CITY, AS A LOCAL IMPROVEMENT, APPROPRIATING $30,000 THEREFOR AND AUTHORIZING THE ISSUANCE OF $30,000 SERIAL BONDS OF THE CITY TO FINANCE SAID APPROPRIATION.

THE COMMON COUNCIL OF THE CITY OF KINGSTON, IN THE COUNTY OF ULSTER, NEW YORK, CONVENED IN REGULAR SESSION HEREBY ORDAINS (by the favorable vote of not less than two-thirds of all the members of said Council) as follows:

Section 1. As a local improvement in and for the City of Kingston, the reconstruction or resurfacing is hereby authorized of Deitz Court at an estimated maximum cost of $21,000.0 and of Melvin Drive at an estimated maximum cost of $9,000.00, including construction of the necessary curbs, sidewalks, gutters, drainage and other incidental improvements, the pavement of said streets to be of more durable construction than sand and gravel, water bound macadam or penetration process. The estimate of the maximum total cost of said object or purpose, including preliminary costs and costs incidental thereto, is $30,000 and the said amount is hereby appropriated therefor to the Board of Public Works. The plan of financing is the issuance of $30,000 serial bonds of the City to finance said appropriation, and the levy of a tax upon all the taxable real property in the City to pay the principal of said bonds and the interest thereon. Of said amount appropriated, seventy-five per cent (75%) thereof will be assessed against the respective properties specially benefited and the amount of any special assessments when levied and collected on the respective properties specially benefited by the improvements above described may be budgeted as an offset to the taxes thus to be levied.

Sec. 2. Serial bonds of the City in the principal amount of $30,000 are hereby authorized to be issued pursuant to the provisions of the Local Finance Law, constituting Chapter 33-a of the Consolidated Laws of the State of New York, as amended.

Sec. 3. The following additional matters are hereby determined and stated:

(a) The period of probable usefulness of the specific object or purpose for which the bonds authorized by this ordinance are to be issued, within the limitations of Section 11.00 a. 20 of said Local Finance Law, is ten (10) years, the pavement of said streets to be of more durable construction than sand and gravel, water bound macadam or penetration process.

(b) Current funds are not required by the said Law to be provided prior to the issuance of the bonds authorized by this resolution, at least fifty per cent (50%) of the cost to be paid being levied upon real property benefited in an area less than the area of the City.

(c) Special assessments upon the property specially benefited by the object or purpose described in Section 1 of this ordinance are expected to be levied to the extent set forth in Section 1 hereof upon the property specially benefited thereby.

Sec. 4. Each of the bonds authorized by this ordinance shall contain the recital of validity prescribed by §52.00 of said Local Finance Law and said bonds and any notes issued in anticipation of said bonds shall be general obligations of the City of Kingston, payable as to both principal and interest by a general tax upon all the taxable real property within the City, without limitation as to rate or amount. The faith and credit of the City of Kingston are hereby irrevocably pledged to the punctual payment of the principal of and interest on said bonds and provision shall be made annually in the budgets of the City by appropriation for (1) the amortization and redemption of the bonds to mature in such year and (2) the payment of interest to be due and payable in such year.

Sec. 5. Subject to the provisions of this ordinance and pursuant to §30.00 of said Local Finance Law relative to the authorization of the issuance of bond anticipation notes and of §50.00 and §56.00 to 60.00 of said Law, the powers and duties of the Common Council relative to prescribing the terms, form and contents and as to the sale and issuance of the bonds authorized by this ordinance and of any notes authorized and issued in anticipation of said bonds are hereby delegated to the Treasurer of the City as the chief fiscal officer of the City.

Sec. 6. The validity of the bonds authorized by this ordinance, and of any notes issued in anticipation of said bonds, may be contested only if:

(a) such obligations are authorized for an object or purpose for which the City is not authorized to expend money, or

(b) the provisions of law which should be complied with at the date of the publication of such ordinance are not substantially complied with,

and an action, suit or proceeding contesting such validity, is commenced within twenty days after the date of such publication, or

(c) such obligations are authorized in violation of the provisions of the constitution.

Sec. 7. This ordinance shall be published at least twice in the "Kingston Daily Freeman" and in the "Ulster County News and Kingston Leader," together with a notice prescribed by §81.00 of the Local Finance Law appended by the City Clerk (which newspapers are allotted to and support the two political parties which cast the greater number of votes at the preceding general election and are the official newspapers of the City), and shall take effect immediately after such publication.

Shady School Students Visit in New York

Woodstock, May 10—Twenty-seven pupils of the Shady School went to New York by chartered bus May 2 accompanied by 12 mothers, under the sponsorship of the Onteora school.

According to Mrs. Daniel C. Kleine, one of the mothers, the children were taken down Route 9W and across the George Washington Bridge to Bronx Park. There they spent the morning in the Children's Village at the Bronx Park Zoo. Each child took a pony and camel ride and visited the various animal houses.

Consuming their packed lunches en route, the children arrived at Madison Square Garden, in time for the matinee performance of the circus. From observations made by the accompanying mothers, there was little doubt but that the children were somewhat dazed and confused by the three ringed circus, which they described as a "spectacular show," in the accepted tradition they consumed their way through copious amounts of peanuts, soda, spun-sugar candy and hot dogs, and each child returned with a souvenir of the trip.

The group rejoined at a terminal at Madison Square Garden to board the bus about 5:30 p. m. Since a supper had been packed for them as well as lunch they ate it on the return journey and arrived in Shady about 10:30 p. m. The children were accompanied on the trip by Mrs. Fred Reynolds, teacher at the Shady School.

BOND ORDINANCE OF THE CITY OF KINGSTON, N. Y., ADOPTED MAY 6, 1952, AUTHORIZING STREET IMPROVEMENTS IN THE CITY, AS A LOCAL IMPROVEMENT, APPROPRIATING $30,000 THEREFOR AND AUTHORIZING THE ISSUANCE OF $30,000 SERIAL BONDS OF THE CITY TO FINANCE SAID APPROPRIATION.

THE COMMON COUNCIL OF THE CITY OF KINGSTON, IN THE COUNTY OF ULSTER, NEW YORK, CONVENED IN REGULAR SESSION HEREBY ORDAINS (by the favorable vote of not less than two-thirds of all the members of said Council) as follows:

Section 1. As a local improvement in and for the City of Kingston, the reconstruction or resurfacing is hereby authorized of Deitz Court at an estimated maximum cost of $21,000.00 and of Melvin Drive at an estimated maximum cost of $9,000.00, including construction of the necessary curbs, sidewalks, gutters, drainage and other incidental improvements, the pavement of said streets to be of more durable construction than sand and gravel, water bound macadam or penetration process. The estimate of the maximum total cost of said object or purpose, including preliminary costs and costs incidental thereto, is $30,000 and the said amount is hereby appropriated therefor to the Board of Public Works. The plan of financing is the issuance of $30,000 serial bonds of the City to finance said appropriation, and the levy of a tax upon all the taxable real property in the City to pay the principal of said bonds and the interest thereon. Of said amount appropriated, seventy-five per cent (75%) thereof will be assessed against the respective properties specially benefited and the amount of any special assessments when levied and collected on the respective properties specially benefited by the improvements above described may be budgeted as an offset to the taxes thus to be levied.

Sec. 2. Serial bonds of the City in the principal amount of $30,000 are hereby authorized to be issued pursuant to the provisions of the Local Finance Law, constituting Chapter 33-a of the Consolidated Laws of the State of New York, as amended.

Sec. 3. The following additional matters are hereby determined and stated:

(a) The period of probable usefulness of the specific object or purpose for which the bonds authorized by this ordinance are to be issued, within the limitations of Section 11.00 a. 20 of said Local Finance Law, is ten (10) years, the pavement of said streets to be of more durable construction than sand and gravel, water bound macadam or penetration process.

(b) Current funds are not required by the said Law to be provided prior to the issuance of the bonds authorized by this resolution, at least fifty per cent (50%) of the cost to be paid being levied upon real property benefited in an area less than the area of the City.

(c) Special assessments upon the property specially benefited by the object or purpose described in Section 1 of this ordinance are expected to be levied to the extent set forth in Section 1 hereof upon the property specially benefited thereby.

Sec. 4. Each of the bonds authorized by this ordinance shall contain the recital of validity prescribed by §52.00 of said Local Finance Law and said bonds and any notes issued in anticipation of said bonds shall be general obligations of the City of Kingston, payable as to both principal and interest by a general tax upon all the taxable real property within the City, without limitation as to rate or amount. The faith and credit of the City of Kingston are hereby irrevocably pledged to the punctual payment of the principal of and interest on said bonds and provision shall be made annually in the budgets of the City by appropriation for (1) the amortization and redemption of the bonds to mature in such year and (2) the payment of interest to be due and payable in such year.

Sec. 5. Subject to the provisions of this ordinance and pursuant to §30.00 of said Local Finance Law relative to the authorization of the issuance of bond anticipation notes and of §50.00 and §§56.00 to 60.00 of said Law, the powers and duties of the Common Council relative to prescribing the terms, form and contents and as to the sale and issuance of the bonds authorized by this ordinance and of any notes authorized and issued in anticipation of said bonds, are hereby delegated to the Treasurer of the City as the chief fiscal officer of the City.

Sec. 6. The validity of the bonds authorized by this ordinance, and of any notes issued in anticipation of said bonds, may be contested only if:

(a) such obligations are authorized for an object or purpose for which the City is not authorized to expend money, or

(b) the provisions of law which should be complied with at the date of the publication of such ordinance are not substantially complied with,

and an action, suit or proceeding contesting such validity, is commenced within twenty days after the date of such publication, or

(c) such obligations are authorized in violation of the provisions of the constitution.

Sec. 7. This ordinance shall be published at least twice in the "Kingston Daily Freeman" and in the "Ulster County News and Kingston Leader," together with a notice prescribed by §81.00 of the Local Finance Law appended by the City Clerk (which newspapers are allied to and support the two political parties which cast the greater number of votes at the preceding general election and are the official newspapers of the City), and shall take effect immediately after such publication.

Shady School Students Visit in New York

Woodstock, May 10—Twenty-seven pupils of the Shady School went to New York by chartered bus May 2 accompanied by 12 mothers, under the sponsorship of the Onteora school.

According to Mrs. Daniel C. Kleine, one of the mothers, the children were taken down Route 9W and across the George Washington Bridge to Bronx Park. There they spent the morning in the Children's Village at the Bronx Park Zoo. Each child took a pony and camel ride and visited the various animal houses.

Consuming their packed lunches en route, the children arrived at Madison Square Garden, in time for the matinee performance of the circus. From observations made by the accompanying mothers, there was little doubt but that the children were somewhat dazed and confused by the three ringed circus, which they described as a "spectacular show," in the accepted tradition they consumed their way through copious amounts of peanuts, soda, spun-sugar candy and hot dogs, and each child returned with a souvenir of the trip.

The group rejoined at a terminal at Madison Square Garden to board the bus about 5:30 p. m. Since a supper had been packed for them as well as lunch they ate it on the return journey and arrived in Shady about 10:30 p. m. The children were accompanied on the trip by Mrs. Fred Reynolds, teacher at the Shady School.

O'Connor Thrills Packed House With Victory Over Joe Tasker

Verne Gagne? Rocca? Superman? The Mighty Atlas?

Sure, they're good — big, top drawer names in professional wrestling.

But this Pat O'Connor, late of New Zealand, currently on an unbeaten trek through the United States in search of the American dollar, must be all those guys rolled into one.

He must be the real McCoy, if last night's dazzling performance at the municipal auditorium is a criterion. The handsome broth of an Irishman, who has the physique of a Grecian god at 235 pounds, laid it on the line and they loved it.

O'Connor spilled Tiger Joe Tasker, 230, a Boston toothy, cauliflower-eared specimen, in straight falls in an exhibition that justified his current lofty status as the darling of the Saturday night TV network out of Chicago.

It was easy to see why wrestling promoters throughout the country are bidding furiously for the New Zealander's services.

Makes Solid Hit

The house was packed last night and, if Promoter Ted Bayly ever brings him back, they'll need shoehorns to fit the customers in the auditorium.

A superb wrestler with a bag of tricks, O'Connor is also a first class showman who titillates the ladies. And nearly 50 per cent of last night's house was on the distaff side. They screamed in joy and anguish depending on the momentary fate of their idol but in the end they were swept away in exultation.

O'Connor's famous flying dropkick disposed of Tasker in 13 minutes, 46 seconds for the first fall. There was a brief intermission so that the ladies could regain their composure, before O'Connor returned to the ring to demolish Tacker in 9:04 for the second and deciding fall.

The match started with O'Connor clamping a series of punishing arm and wrist locks on Tasker. The Beantowner retaliated by cuffing O'Connor around with his open fists and in a few seconds the bout developed into a boxing brawl. Tasker came out a poor second and subsequently yielded to the pressure of three flying drop kicks in succession.

Don Evans Wins

Don Evans, of nearby Flatbush, continued his reign of terror in the auditorium by smearing Wally Dern, 230, the New Orleans artist.

Evans wrung a concession out of Dern with a severe arm lock for the first fall in 14:06. Before the fall Evans and Dern cuffed each other around to the delight of the patrons who expect the worst out of the "Kingston Killer" and generally get it. He is about as playful as an undernourished panther once he steps inside those ropes.

The "Killer" disposed of Dern in less than five minutes with a body slam for the deciding fall.

Joe Muscato, 228, Buffalo, who made passes at Joe Louis' heavyweight crown as a boxer, copped the 30-minute curtain raiser in 15:03 over John Heidman, 221, of New York.

It was an interesting tussle with Heidman, a member of the old school of histrionics, putting on quite a show before he succumbed to Muscato's boxing technique.

The officials for the card were: Chic Gaynor, Troy, referee; Barney Williams, Highland, and Tony Muscatel, Troy, judges; Fred Eisler, Kingston, timer and Charles J. Tiano, announcer.

Bear Mountain Gets Olympic Canoe Trials

Chicago, May 10 (AP)—Tryouts for the U. S. Olympic canoe team will be held June 14-15 at Lake Sebago, Bear Mountain, N. Y., Walter Haner, Jr., of Brooklyn, chairman of the Olympic Canoe Committee, announced today.

Eight canoeists will be chosen. They will try to qualify in four events at 1,000 and 10,000 meters. Competition includes tests in single and double kayaks and racing canoes.

Only two more Olympic sport tryouts are yet to be set—in the modern pentathlon and yachting.

Commission Asks Showdown With IBC

New York, May 10 (AP) — The International Boxing Club has been ordered to prove to the New York State Athletic Commission that it does not operate a monopoly.

Robert K. Christenberry, commission chairman, called a hearing for May 16 and then, at the request of the IBC, set it back 45 days to around July 1.

The IBC has been asked to answer charges that it controls champions and leading boxers, big city arenas and radio and television rights for big time boxing and that it has alliances with other promoters contrary to the best interests of boxing.

The promotional body, which took over the role once held by Tex Rickard and later Mike Jacobs' Twentieth Century Sporting Club, stands to lose its license if its acts are found detrimental to the sport.

The government also has shown interest in the IBC operations, having filed a civil anti-trust suit against the body March 17 based on similar grounds.

St. Louis Rookies Find Going Rough in Early Major Season

By RALPH RODEN
Associated Press Sports Writer

The expected prides of St. Louis—rookies Jim Rivera and Wilmer (Vinegar Bend) Mizell — have fizzled so far in their bids for major league stardom.

Both recruits, touted during spring training as the probable rookies of the year in the American and National Leagues, have flashed too rarely the form that made them standouts in the minors.

Rivera, 29-year-old outfielder of the Browns, has collected only 13 hits in 66 trips for a lack-luster .197 average. Rivera has ridden the bench of late but was let out Thursday and came through with a game-winning homer against Philadelphia.

Mizell, the gangling lefthander of the Cardinals, has been the victim of the "big inning." The youngster, hailed as a "lefthanded Dizzy Dean," sails along in fine style, then suddenly seems to lose his stuff. He blew up again last night, losing his third game as Cincinnati beat St. Louis, 8-3.

The prize pitching prospect lost his major league debut to Ken Raffensberger and Cincinnati, 2-1, when Joe Adcock socked a two-run triple in the first inning. The next time out Mizell had Chicago beaten, 3-2, going into the eighth inning when he blew up and yielded four runs to be charged with a 6-3 loss.

Mizell won his third start, 3-2, with a neat four-hitter over Philadelphia but he bowed last night to the Reds.

The kid had the Reds eating out of hand until the seventh inning when he blew sky high and was tagged for seven runs. Adcock ruined Mizell again, this time with a three-run homer. The rally wiped out a 2-0 St. Louis lead.

Raffensberger's victory was his fourth and his second over Mizell. The triumph also enabled the Reds to take over third place from Chicago. The Cub's scheduled game with Pittsburgh was postponed because of cold weather. The remaining National League clubs were idle.

Indians First

The Cleveland Indians took over first place in the American League from the Boston Red Sox without lifting a bat. The Indians, idled by rain, moved a half-game ahead as the Red Sox dropped a 7-4 decision to the New York Yankees. The Indians had been scheduled to play St. Louis' Browns.

Veterans Johnny Sain and Bobby Hogue, former Boston Brave stablemates, teamed up to stop the Red Sox. Sain drove in three runs on a homer and double before he left at the end of the seventh inning.

Sain was struck on the right kneecap by a liner from the bat of Billy Goodman in the second inning and was forced to retire after the seventh when his knee stiffened.

Lefty Bill Wight, a former Yankee making his first start, and Sain, were locked in a 2-2 duel going into the sixth when errors by Johnny Pesky and Jim Piersall handed the Yanks three unearned runs and the game. The victory ended a three-game New York losing streak.

The Chicago White Sox won the longest game of the season as they defeated the Detroit Tigers, 8-5, in 16 innings at Detroit. Minnie Minoso tripled home two runs in the 16th and scored the third on Ed Robinson's single. The three runs were unearned as they were set up by Johnny Lipon's error.

Detroit rallied in its half of the 16th, loading the bases with one out but Bill Kennedy ended the four hour and 27-minute battle by striking out George Lerchen and getting Johny Groth to ground out.

Little Bobby Shantz pitched the Philadelphia Athletics to a 9-3 victory over the Washington Senators in the only American League night game. Shantz permitted six hits in gaining his fourth triumph.

Famous German Soccer Team Plans Visit To West Point and Area Spots May 13-14

One of Europe's most prominent soccer football teams, the Stuttgart Kickers, will pay a social visit to Kingston and vicinity on May 13 and 14. The German team is currently on a two-game tour of the midwest but will return in time to be the guests of the U. S. Military Academy at West Point next Tuesday. The party will leave West Point late Tuesday afternoon to accept an invitation for dinner at Oehler's Mountain Lodge on Road 28-A in Kingston.

On Wednesday morning they will conclude their sightseeing at Kingston and will proceed to Ashokan Reservoir, Woodstock and Phoenicia. After stops at West Hurley and Barryville, they will return to New York to play a game at Eintracht Oval in Astoria on Thursday evening and the feature match of their tour against the newly crowned champions of England, Manchester United, at Randalls Island Stadium in New York on Sunday, May 25.

The Kickers' visit to Kingston and vicinity has been arranged by August Steuer, president of the German-American Football Ass'n. and a resident of Samsonville for the past several years. Mr. Steuer is convinced that the touring young soccerites, who have proved themselves excellent good will ambassadors on their American tour, will find the local landscape very similar to their native Suabia.

A city of 450,000, Stuttgart is on of the most beautifully situated of all European cities and is generally considered to be the most rapidly reconstruced of the devasted war areas. Many former residents of Stuttgart and the nearby Suabian townships have settled on the right bank of the Hudson river during the past 100 years. A delegation of nearly 100 turned up at the opening Stuttgart game at Randalls Island on May 4.

Mr. Steuer personally plans the entire itinerary of each visiting team from abroad. Two years ago he initiated the tour of the Hamburg SV and in 1951 his league brought over the Eintracht Frankfurt Club. In the summer of 1950 he headed a German-American team which toured to seven cities in Germany.

Batting—Minnie Minoso, White Sox, clouted two-run triple in 16th inning to spark Chicago to a 8-5 victory over Detroit in longest game of season.

Stock Stars Bid For $1000 Purse

Another $1000 purse is on tap for leading NASCAR stock car pilots in the season's second race tonight on the 1/5 mile Rhinebeck Speedway track.

Heading the seven-event card will be Al DeAngelo, 26-year-old mechanic of Woodmere, Long Island, who pulled a Dick Merriwell stunt last Saturday to cop the 25-lay feature by a hood's length. DeAngelo was seen for the first time by many local fans last week although he has been racing for four seasons.

Added to the confusion of new faces, two Ray Browns have signed again to race at Rhinebeck this Saturday. One is the well-known Ray "Zero" Brown of White Plains driving car 356 and the "intruder" of the same name driving car B-1 hails from Westville, Massachusetts.

Some of the local drivers racing regularly at Rhinebeck are Byron Fisher and Warren Bohnsack of Germantown, Bob Disbrow of Poughkeepsie and Larry Shurter of West Shokan.

Others include Russ Truelove, Jerry Golden, Charlie Barry, George Deep, Bill Annette, Jack Nichols, Dick Barnitt, Johnny Gouveia, Smoky Day, Tom DuPont, Johnny Rocco, Art Barkman, Al Wormuth, Joe Ondrek and Wynn Serafini. More entries are coming in late Saturday.

As usual, the first event begins at 8:30.

Detroit Keglers Fade in Tenth

Milwaukee, May 10 (AP)—Two bad breaks kept the Bob Cole Agency of Detroit from rolling into the top ten last night at the American Bowling Congress tourney.

Twice in the last frame of the final game, direct pocket slams failed to carry and the Motor City quintet finished with 2,953, good enough to top the night's team shooting. They had games of 952,-953 and 1,042.

Elwood Blake, No. 4 man, was the first whom lady luck deserted and anchorman Erwin Nagel, after cashing in his first strike of the game on the first ball of the final frame was robbed on his next toss. Instead of a possible eighth, the Detroiters had to settle for 14th place, eight pins away from tenth.

Bob Cole was high with 621 on 191, 184 and 246, while Nagel and Blake followed with 618 and 612, respectively.

Two St. Paul quintets tagged with 1,000 averages fared poorly. Howard's Clothes banged 2,734 while Hamm's Beer, led by Rags Rogogna with 546, nudged 2,467. Rogogna once fired three 800 series on one season.

Minor events action was just that, with Peter Valenti, Cos Cob, Conn., earning the day's honors on a 1,841 all events total. He came back with 609 in doubles and 656 in singles yesterday after hitting 576 in team Thursday.

Phoenix, Ariz. — Bobby Jones, 157, Oakland, Calif., stopped Kid Guadalajara, 157, Guadalajara, Mexico, 2.

Oliver Retains Greenbrier Lead

White Sulphur Springs, W. Va., May 10 (AP)—Ed Oliver really has earned his nickname of Porky today by literally eating his way into the halfway lead of the 72-hole Greenbrier open.

He certainly didn't shoot it in the second 18 holes yesterday. The veteran pro from Lemont, Ill., went over par 70 by a stroke and it might have been worse if he didn't quit during a violent rain storm to feed his face.

When the 5-foot 9½-inch 220-pounder went into the rough at the eighth he was already three behind par. When he returned, the worst of the storm was over and the sun soon was shining again.

Oliver, who had a 61 in the opening round, lost another stroke on the 13th but then snared three birdies for a 71 and a 36-hole total of 132.

That left him one stroke ahead of Jimmy Clark of Laguna Beach, Calif., and Sam Snead, the host pro, who had finished through the worst of the rain, wind, thunder and lightning.

It was the lightning which allowed Oliver to call time. The U. S. Golf Association rules authorize a golfer to halt play while it's going on. Clark also got a break but it was from the starting lineup. He went off first so that when the storm struck he had to play only the last hole. He banged out six birdies with one bogey for 65 and the best second round.

Mangrum, Bolt Tie

Mexico City, May 10 (AP)—The Pan-American Open golf tournament moved into its final 36 holes today with the field in pursuit of a pair of United States professionals — Lloyd Mangrum and Tommy Bolt, each with 140. Mangrum, former U. S. Open champion from Niles, Ill., matched the 72-par of the lengthened, 7,347-yard course yesterday to gain a halfway tie with Bolt, first round leader who skied to a 76.

O'Connor Thrills Packed House With Victory Over Joe Tasker

Verne Gagne? Rocca? Superman? The Mighty Atlas?

Sure, they're good — big, top drawer names in professional wrestling.

But this Pat O'Connor, late of New Zealand, currently on an unseason trek through the United States in search of the American dollar, must be all those guys rolled into one.

He must be the real McCoy, if last night's dazzling performance at the municipal auditorium is a criterion. The handsome broth of an Irishman, who has the physique of a Grecian god at 235 pounds, laid it on the line and they loved it.

O'Connor spilled Tiger Joe Tasker, 230, a Boston toothy, cauliflower-eared specimen, in straight falls in an exhibition that justified his current lofty status as the darling of the Saturday night TV network out of Chicago.

It was easy to see why wrestling promoters throughout the country are bidding furiously for the New Zealander's services.

Makes Solid Hit

The house was packed last night and, if Promoter Ted Bayly ever brings him back, they'll need shoehorns to fit the customers in the auditorium.

A superb wrestler with a bag of tricks, O'Connor is also a first class showman who titillates the ladies. And nearly 50 per cent of last night's house was on the distaff side. They screamed in joy and anguish depending on the momentary fate of their idol but in the end they were swept away in exultation.

O'Connor's famous flying dropkick disposed of Tasker in 13 minutes, 46 seconds for the first fall. There was a brief intermission so that the ladies could regain their composure, before O'Connor returned to the ring to demolish Tacker in 9:04 for the second and deciding fall.

The match started with O'Connor clamping a series of punishing arm and wrist locks on Tasker. The Beantowner retaliated by cuffing O'Connor around with his open fists and in a few seconds the bout developed into a boxing brawl. Tasker came out a poor second and subsequently yielded to the pressure of three flying drop kicks in succession.

Don Evans Wins

Don Evans, of nearby Flatbush, continued his reign of terror in the auditorium by smearing Wally Dern, 230, the New Orleans artist.

Evans wrung a concession out of Dern with a severe arm lock for the first fall in 14:06. Before the fall Evans and Dern cuffed each other around to the delight of the patrons who expect the worst out of the "Kingston Killer" and generally get it. He is about as playful as an undernourished panther once he steps inside those ropes.

The "Killer" disposed of Dern in less than five minutes with a body slam for the deciding fall.

Joe Muscato, 228, Buffalo, who made passes at Joe Louis' heavyweight crown as a boxer, copped the 30-minute curtain raiser in 15:03 over John Heidman, 221, of New York.

It was an interesting tussle with Heidman, a member of the old school of histrionics, putting on quite a show before he succumbed to Muscato's boxing technique.

The officials for the card were: Chic Gaynor, Troy, referee; Barney Williams, Highland, and Tony Muscatel, Troy, judges; Fred Eisler, Kingston, timer and Charles J. Tiano, announcer.

Seek Games

The Cementon softball club is seeking games with teams in this area. Clubs interested are requested to contact Tony Kordich, Cementon, or call Saugerties, 630-R.

Bear Mountain Gets Olympic Canoe Trials

Chicago, May 10 (AP)—Tryouts for the U. S. Olympic canoe team will be held June 14-15 at Lake Sebago, Bear Mountain, N. Y., Walter Haner, Jr., of Brooklyn, chairman of the Olympic Canoe Committee, announced today.

Eight canoeists will be chosen. They will try to qualify in four events at 1,000 and 10,000 meters. Competition includes tests in single and double kayaks and racing canoes.

Only two more Olympic sport tryouts are yet to be set—in the modern pentathlon and yachting.

Commission Asks Showdown With IBC

New York, May 10 (AP) — The International Boxing Club has been ordered to prove to the New York State Athletic Commission that it does not operate a monopoly.

Robert K. Christenberry, commission chairman, called a hearing for May 16 and then, at the request of the IBC, set it back 45 days to around July 1.

The IBC has been asked to answer charges that it controls champions and leading boxers, big city arenas and radio and television rights for big time boxing and that it has alliances with other promoters contrary to the best interests of boxing.

The promotional body, which took over the role once held by Tex Rickard and later Mike Jacobs' Twentieth Century Sporting Club, stands to lose its license if its acts are found detrimental to the sport.

The government also has shown interest in the IBC operations, having filed a civil anti-trust suit against the body March 17 based on similar grounds.

St. Louis Rookies Find Going Rough in Early Major Season

By RALPH RODEN
Associated Press Sports Writer

The expected prides of St. Louis —rookies Jim Rivera and Wilmer (Vinegar Bend) Mizell — have fizzled so far in their bids for major league stardom.

Both recruits, touted during spring training as the probable rookies of the year in the American and National Leagues, have flashed too rarely the form that made them standouts in the minors.

Rivera, 29-year-old outfielder of the Browns, has collected only 13 hits in 66 trips for a lack-luster .197 average. Rivera has ridden the bench of late but was let out Thursday and came through with a game-winning homer against Philadelphia.

Mizell, the gangling lefthander of the Cardinals, has been the victim of the "big inning." The youngster, hailed as a "lefthanded Dizzy Dean," sails along in fine style, then suddenly seems to lose his stuff. He blew up again last night, losing his third game as Cincinnati beat St. Louis, 8-3.

The prize pitching prospect lost his major league debut to Ken Raffensberger and Cincinnati, 2-1, when Joe Adcock socked a two-run triple in the first inning. The next time out Mizell had Chicago beaten, 3-2, going into the eighth inning when he blew up and yielded four runs to be charged with a 6-3 loss.

Mizell won his third start, 3-2, with a neat four-hitter over Philadelphia but he bowed last night to the Reds.

The kid had the Reds eating out of hand until the seventh inning when he blew sky high and was tagged for seven runs. Adcock ruined Mizell again, this time with a three-run homer. The rally wiped out a 2-0 St. Louis lead.

Raffensberger's victory was his fourth and his second over Mizell. The triumph also enabled the Reds to take over third place from Chicago. The Cub's scheduled game with Pittsburgh was postponed because of cold weather. The remaining National League clubs were idle.

Indians First

The Cleveland Indians took over first place in the American League from the Boston Red Sox without lifting a bat. The Indians, idled by rain, moved a half-game ahead as the Red Sox dropped a 7-4 decision to the New York Yankees. The Indians had been scheduled to play St. Louis' Browns.

Veterans Johnny Sain and Bobby Hogue, former Boston Brave stablemates, teamed up to stop the Red Sox. Sain drove in three runs on a homer and double before he left at the end of the seventh inning.

Sain was struck on the right kneecap by a liner from the bat of Billy Goodman in the second inning and was forced to retire after the seventh when his knee stiffened.

Lefty Bill Wight, a former Yankee making his first start, and Sain, were locked in a 2-2 duel going into the sixth when errors by Johnny Pesky and Jim Piersall handed the Yanks three unearned runs and the game. The victory ended a three-game New York losing streak.

The Chicago White Sox won the longest game of the season as they defeated the Detroit Tigers, 8-5, in 16 innings at Detroit. Minnie Minoso tripled home two runs in the 16th and scored the third on Ed Robinson's single. The three runs were unearned as they were set up by Johnny Lipon's error.

Detroit rallied in its half of the 16th, loading the bases with one out but Bill Kennedy ended the four hour and 27-minute battle by striking out George Lerchen and getting Johny Groth to ground out.

Little Bobby Shantz pitched the Philadelphia Athletics to a 9-3 victory over the Washington Senators in the only American League night game. Shantz permitted six hits in gaining his fourth triumph.

The party will leave West Point late Tuesday afternoon to accept an invitation for dinner at Oehler's Mountain Lodge on Road 28-A in Kingston.

On Wednesday morning they will conclude their sightseeing at Kingston and will proceed to Ashokan Reservoir, Woodstock and Phoenicia. After stops at West Hurley and Barryville, they will return to New York to play a game at Eintracht Oval in Astoria on Thursday evening and the feature match of their tour against the newly crowned champions of England, Manchester United, at Randalls Island Stadium in New York on Sunday, May 25.

The Kickers' visit to Kingston and vicinity has been arranged by August Steuer, president of the German-American Football Ass'n. and a resident of Samsonville for the past several years. Mr. Steuer is convinced that the touring young soccerites, who have proved themselves excellent good will ambassadors on their American tour, will find the local landscape very similar to their native Suabia.

A city of 450,000, Stuttgart is on of the most beautifully situated of all European cities and is generally considered to be the most rapidly reconstructed of the devasted war areas. Many former residents of Stuttgart and the nearby Suabian townships have settled on the right bank of the Hudson river during the past 100 years. A delegation of nearly 100 turned up at the opening Stuttgart game at Randalls Island on May 4.

Mr. Steuer personally plans the entire itinerary of each visiting team from abroad. Two years ago he initiated the tour of the Hamburg SV and in 1951 his league brought over the Eintracht Frankfurt Club. In the summer of 1950 he headed a German-American team which toured to seven cities in Germany.

Stock Stars Bid For $1000 Purse

Another $1000 purse is on tap for leading NASCAR stock car pilots in the season's second race tonight on the 1/5 mile Rhinebeck Speedway track.

Heading the seven-event card will be Al DeAngelo, 26-year-old mechanic of Woodmere, Long Island, who pulled a Dick Merriwell stunt last Saturday to cop the 25-lay feature by a hood's length. DeAngelo was seen for the first time by many local fans last week although he has been racing for four seasons.

Added to the confusion of new faces, two Ray Browns have signed again to race at Rhinebeck this Saturday. One is the well-known Ray "Zero" Brown of White Plains driving car 356 and the "intruder" of the same name driving car B-1 hails from Westville, Massachusetts.

Some of the local drivers racing regularly at Rhinebeck are Byron Fisher and Warren Bohnsack of Germantown, Bob Disbrow of Poughkeepsie and Larry Shurter of West Shokan.

Others include Russ Truelove, Jerry Golden, Charlie Barry, George Deep, Bill Annette, Jack Nichols, Dick Barnitt, Johnny Gouveia, Smoky Day, Tom DuPont, Johnny Rocco, Art Barkman, Al Wormuth, Joe Ondrek and Wynn Serafini. More entries are coming in late Saturday.

As usual, the first event begins at 8:30.

Detroit Keglers Fade in Tenth

Milwaukee, May 10 (AP)—Two bad breaks kept the Bob Cole Agency of Detroit from rolling into the top ten last night at the American Bowling Congress tourney.

Twice in the last frame of the final game, direct pocket slams failed to carry and the Motor City quintet finished with 2,953, good enough to top the night's team shooting. They had games of 952,-953 and 1,042.

Elwood Blake, No. 4 man, was the first whom lady luck deserted and anchorman Erwin Nagel, after cashing in his first strike of the game on the first ball of the final frame was robbed on his next toss. Instead of a possible eighth, the Detroiters had to settle for 14th place, eight pins away from tenth.

Bob Cole was high with 621 on 191, 184 and 246, while Nagel and Blake followed with 618 and 612, respectively.

Two St. Paul quintets tagged with 1,000 averages fared poorly. Howard's Clothes banged 2,734 while Hamm's Beer, led by Rags Rogogna with 546, nudged 2,467. Rogogna once fired three 800 series on one season.

Minor events action was just that, with Peter Valenti, Cos Cob, Conn., earning the day's honors on a 1,841 all events total. He came back with 609 in doubles and 656 in singles yesterday after hitting 576 in team Thursday.

Phoenix, Ariz. — Bobby Jones, 157, Oakland, Calif., stopped Kid Guadalajara, 157, Guadalajara, Mexico, 2.

Oliver Retains Greenbrier Lead

White Sulphur Springs, W. Va., May 10 (AP)—Ed Oliver really has earned his nickname of Porky today by literally eating his way into the halfway lead of the 72-hole Greenbrier open.

He certainly didn't shoot it in the second 18 holes yesterday. The veteran pro from Lemont, Ill., went over par 70 by a stroke and it might have been worse if he didn't quit during a violent rain storm to feed his face.

When the 5-foot 9½-inch 220-pounder went into the rough at the eighth he was already three behind par. When he returned, the worst of the storm was over and the sun soon was shining again.

Oliver, who had a 61 in the opening round, lost another stroke on the 13th but then snared three birdies for a 71 and a 36-hole total of 132.

That left him one stroke ahead of Jimmy Clark of Laguna Beach, Calif., and Sam Snead, the host pro, who had finished through the worst of the rain, wind, thunder and lightning.

It was the lightning which allowed Oliver to call time. The U. S. Golf Association rules authorize a golfer to halt play while it's going on. Clark also got a break but it was from the starting lineup. He went off first so that when the storm struck he had to play only the last hole. He banged out six birdies with one bogey for 65 and the best second round.

Mangrum, Bolt Tie

Mexico City, May 10 (AP)—The Pan-American Open golf tournament moved into its final 36 holes today with the field in pursuit of a pair of United States professionals — Lloyd Mangrum and Tommy Bolt, each with 140. Mangrum, former U. S. Open champion from Niles, Ill., matched the 72-par of the lengthened, 7,347-yard course yesterday to gain a halfway tie with Bolt, first round leader who skied to a 76.

Memoriam

In loving memory of our dear son, Harry L. Marshall, who passed away one year ago, May 11, 1951.

What would we give, his hand to clasp,
His patient face to see;
To hear his voice, to see his smile,
As in the days that used to be.
But some sweet day we'll meet again,
Beyond the toil and strife,
And clasp each other's hands once more,
In Heaven, that happy life.

MOTHER'S DAY

No bands need play; no trumpets shall we blow;
There's nothing for the crowd to see nor hear;
We cannot offer any worldly show
In honor of the one we hold so dear.

The pathway's dim, my vision seems to blur,
As thru the years my footsteps I retrace;
I fain would spend the day alone with her,
And, with her arms about me, seek God's grace.

Woman Is Booked On Homicide in Man's Death Fall

New York, May 10 (AP)—Mrs. Lorraine Reed, 20, of 43-23 206th street, Bayside, Queens, was booked on a homicide charge early today in the death Thursday morning of Eugene Stokes, 52, of 171 West 23rd street, police reported.

Stokes plunged to his death from a ledge outside his third-floor furnished room. Police said a passerby saw him teeter on the ledge before falling.

Today, detectives said Mrs. Reed was booked on the specific charge of "causing Eugene Stokes to fall to the street from his third floor window causing his death."

Detectives said they arrested Mrs. Reed in an investigation started when they learned someone may have been with Stokes before his death.

They said Mrs. Reed and a male friend were in a neighborhood tavern early Thursday when Stokes, an acquaintance of the young woman, entered. Police said the three argued, and Stokes left. Later, authorities added, the woman, her friend and another man went to the building where Stokes lived.

Police quoted Mrs. Reed as saying the men remained downstairs and she went upstairs to Stokes' room for a chat.

Frightened by Visit

The detectives said she told them that Stokes appeared frightened by her visit, climbed out of the window, and fell to the street.

But she insisted, detectives said, that she said nothing to frighten him or intimidate him, that she did not approach him, and that she neither pushed him or touched him.

Police said they were looking for her companions, who were not identified. Detectives said the woman was estranged from her husband.

Detectives did not make public why the woman wanted to see Stokes in his room.

Stokes was a telephone repairman.

Report Stolen Trucks Are Found Abandoned

A pickup truck owned by the Town of Shawangunk was stolen from the Town Hall in Wallkill about 10:30 p. m. yesterday and was later found abandoned on a back street in that village.

Highland state police were notified that another pickup truck, owned by Charles Penny of Wallkill, had been taken from approximately the same place that the first one was abandoned. Penny's truck was found by state police patrols on River road, Wallkill, where it had been abandoned.

Highland state police, who investigated, said they believed the same person was involved in both thefts. They reported that the Town of Shawangunk truck had been damaged slightly about the front end when it had apparently struck a tree. The other truck, they said, was recovered undamaged.

Sunday Auto Races Win Out, Po'keepsie May Hold Circuses

Albany, N. Y., May 10 (AP)—Sunday auto-racing has made a super-charged spurt in New York state since the legislature liberalized the state's Sunday blue laws.

Spectator sports—including the controversial stockcar races—now are permitted by local ordinance in many communities. Others are expected to clear the dirt tracks for summer trade.

Stiff opposition from church groups has failed to block local permission in many areas. Speaking up at public hearings, ministers have argued that the Sunday races shrink their congregations, profane the Sabbath, and lure gamblers.

Auto-racing promoters have persuaded at least 15 municipalities in the state to permit Sunday events, an Associated Press survey shows.

It was a rash of disputes over stock-car racing and other Sunday sports that prompted the Legislature to remodel the blue laws.

Participation sports — fishing, hunting, golf, tennis and the like —are legal on Sunday anywhere in the state, under the 1952 law. But local governments must decide whether they will allow spectator sports, such as auto races and circuses.

Leading the boom in Sunday auto races is Rensselaer county, where at least six tracks have been approved.

Sunday circuses will be permitted in the town of Poughkeepsie. Closing of a large circus there last year helped spark the demand for revision of the law.

But the sponsors of the circus, the Poughkeepsie American Legion Post, noted that the clergy still opposed operating it on Sunday. The Legionnaires booked their show for a Saturday this year.

Oswego's City Council stepped into a local tiff when it approved a proposed ordinance to permit Sunday races.

Clergymen attacked the plan to let Oswego Amusements, Inc., run Sunday stock-car races within the city limits. Mayor Frank L. Gould has postponed action until the city attorney gives his formal opinion.

In Tioga, the town board has scheduled a referendum next Wednesday on a Sunday race proposal. The Shangri-La Speedway, west of the village of Oswego, asked permission to hold races.

Elsewhere, local governments have agreed in Vernon, Oneida county; Afton, Chenango county; Central Square, Oswego county; Greenport near Hudson in Columbia county; the towns of Sand Lake, Brunswick and Poestenkill in Rensselaer county; South Westerlo, Albany county; Alexandria Bay, Jefferson county; and Brewerton, Onondaga county.

Reports Car Brushed Miss Farrell, Shokan

Lawrence Machione, Jr., of Union street, Glasco, reported to police headquarters about 10:30 last night that as he was turning from Hoffman street into Broadway his car had brushed against Joan Farrell, 21, of Shokan.

Machione told Sgt. James Cullum that Miss Farrell claimed no injuries and told him that the car had just brushed against her coat.

A check at Miss Farrell's home produced a conflicting report. Michael Farrell said that when his daughter returned home last night she told him that the car had knocked her down and torn off one of her slippers. He said that she had also suffered bruises. No charges have been preferred against Machione, police said.

May Return Home Today

William S. Keyser of 167 Tremper avenue may return to his home today from Kingston Hospital, hospital authorities reported. Keyser, local funeral director associated with the Sweet and Keyser Funeral Home, has been a patient since April 15, when, the sheriff's office reported, he was injured in an automobile accident on Route 28 near this city. Hospital authorities today reported no change in the condition of Fred Goeller, 306 Clinton avenue, indicating that his condition is still considered "fair." Goeller and Keyser were injured in the same accident in which Anthony Herbert, 16, of Flushing, was fatally hurt. Also injured but discharged from the hospital shortly after the accident were Robert Canavan, 17 Belvedere street, and Philip Sinagra, 344 Broadway.

Shot at NYU Party

New York, May 10 (AP)—A New York University block party in Washington Square turned into a melee early today as a man apparently went berserk and was shot and killed by a special officer. Police identified the dead man as Enus L. Christiani, of Brockton, Mass., a 35-year-old Negro. Authorities said Christiani suddenly appeared among several gay students and overturned one of the many tables on the sidewalk. Clarence Young, a 22-year-old Negro porter, was badly beaten by Christiani when he tried to restrain the six-foot-plus man, police added. Then James G. Giordano, a special officer employed by the university, intervened but was struck to the ground by Christiani. As the officer fell, police said he fired two shots at Christiani.

Cartoonist Kirby Dies

New York, May 10 (AP)—Rollin Kirby, 77, three-time winner of the Pulitzer prize for his newspaper cartoons, died yesterday of a heart ailment. Kirby, who turned to cartoonnig only after his paintings failed to sell, won the prize in 1922, 1925 and 1929. His prize-winning cartoons concerned Russia in the early 1920s, American relations with the League of Nations, and New York politics. Kirby, a native of Galva, Ill., had worked for the old New York Sun, The old New York World, the New York World-Telegram and the New York Post. The Hagen Brothers circus, a medium sized motorized circus will play under auspices of Excelsior Hose Company, No. 4. The circus will arrive in Kingston from Poughkeepsie where it will show July 3 and will go to Oneonta from Kingston.

Because of Kingston's 300th anniversary observance this year, the management of the circus routed the circus through this area.

Under auspices of Excelsior Hose Company, the Coleman Brothers Shows also will come to Kingston for a week showing beginning June 30. The management has scheduled fireworks for the evening of July 4 in addition to its usual shows, rides and free acts.

Gross' Brother

licemen, plus former Police Commissioner William P. O'Brien, Chief Inspector August W. Flath, former Chief of Detectives William T. Whalen and former First Deputy Fire Commissioner James J. Moran.

All these men were close friends and political appointees of O'Dwyer, now U. S. Ambassador to Mexico. O'Brien and Flath have called Gross a liar.

McDonald's ire apparently was roused by Gross' remark that he named these officers to Brooklyn authorities and the grand jury in 1950. Partly reiterating, Gross said yesterday:

"Perhaps someone was taken care of—I don't know. All I know is they were mentioned and they were left out. * * * I discussed it with Mr. Helfand (assistant Brooklyn District Attorney Julius Helfand). I said, is there favoritism here? But he told me not to try to be a lawyer."

In a statement, McDonald replied that there might have been more indictments if Gross had been a bit quicker talking about dealings.

Eighteen policemen, none of them high brass and none of them defendants at the current trial, were indicted for conspiracy and many others were named as co-conspirators. But the case collapsed last September when Gross suddenly refused to testify against them.

Youth Forfeits Bail On Traffic Charge

Robert Smith, 17, of 20 Webster street, forfeited $10 bail in City Court this morning on a charge of driving after dark with a junior operator's license.

Smith was arrested at 12:49 a. m. today by Officers John Crespino and Charles A. Hoehing. His arrest followed investigation of a report that a car had run into a tree on Crane street near East Union street.

Two on One Ear

Washington, May 10 (AP)—Mrs. Harold Burton, wife of the Supreme Court justice, only smiled when another woman whispered, "do you know you have two earrings on the same ear?" "Yes, I know," Mrs. Burton replied. Then she got into the elevator in her apartment building and sallied forth to yesterday's White House reception for the judiciary. There she had to explain: Her slanting hat covered the right ear and she wanted both bobs to show, so she put them top and bottom of her left ear.

Appeal for Gasoline

London, May 10 (AP)—Britain and the United States joined today in a world-wide appeal to restrict the consumption of aviation gasoline, the ministry of fuel announced. The appeal has been sent to all countries and "it is therefore expected that civil aviation will shortly be subject to restrictions on a world-wide basis," the announcement said. The action is the result of the American oil strike.

Escaped at Koje

Col. Wilbur Raven (above), of Newton, Texas, escaped from Communist prisoners of war on South Korea's Koje Island May 7, when prison camp commandant Brig. Gen. Francis T. Dodd was seized as a hostage. The colonel was identified as the officer involved by National Broadcasting Company correspondent John Rich.

General Dodd . . .

and 38 wounded. Dodd was named camp commander two days later. Another riot erupted on March 13 and 12 prisoners were killed and 26 wounded.

Used as Propaganda

While the Reds held Dodd captive, Gen. Matthew B. Ridgway, on the eve of his departure for Europe, issued a stinging blast at the kidnaping. He ordered Eighth Army Commander James A. Van Fleet to use "whatever force is necessary" to get Dodd out.

The Red propaganda mills seized immediately on the incident and Ridgway order.

North Korean General Nam Il, at the Panmunjom truce talks, charged the UN was preparing "another massacre" on the island.

Ridgway said at a news conference in Tokyo the Dodd kidnaping "may very well affect the Korean truce talks."

No Action Raised

raise dust over the WSB's steel ruling and its historic aftermath, there were these developments in the steel and related labor picture:

1. Labor members of the WSB urged public and industry members to adopt immediately a policy permitting additional wage increases to cover higher worker productivity. The board adopted a resolution yesterday allowing productivity and annual improvement raises for the rest of 1952 on contracts negotiated prior to the January 1951 wage freeze.

2. Government efforts to settle the Western Union strike failed again. As negotiations recessed indefinitely yesterday, the company demanded elimination of the union shop while the union reduced its demands to an 18-cents-an-hour wage increase.

Expect Ruling Today

3. The Supreme Court, after failing to act yesterday, was expected to rule today or Monday on a request by the three railroad operating unions to consider the government's three-year-old rail seizure along with the steel seizure.

4. Feinsinger said the Wage Stabilization Board is due to suspend all wage controls in the near future on firms employing eight or fewer employes.

5. Rep. Mansfield (D.-Mont.) told newsmen that President Truman thinks both the oil strike and government operation of the railroads will end soon.

6. Sen. Frank Carlson (R.-Kans.), director of the National Eisenhower-for President Headquarters, indicated in an address at Medford, Ore., that Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower, is opposed to such government actions as seizure of the steel plants.

Feud Is Settled

New York, May 10 (AP)—Joseph P. Ryan, president of the AFL International Longshoremen's Association (ILA), and dock boss Anthony (Tough Tony) Anastasia have settled their feud—the latest squabble to divide waterfront union ranks here. Anastasia, who bosses a stretch of Brooklyn piers, says he will let Ryan run ILA affairs in Brooklyn.

In June, 1951, the general was appointed chief military adviser to Dr. Frank P. Graham, head of the United Nations Mission to India and Pakistan, and spent from June until September on the subcontinent assisting with negotiations in an endeavor to settle the Kasmir affair. During the latter part of September and the early port of October, and again in December, he was in Paris attending United Nations Security Council meetings in connection with this mission.

Dinner for Public

The dinner is open to the public, both men and women. Tickets may be obtained from any of the participating organizations, from Ward Tongue, ticket chairman, at the county clerk's office; Howard C. Shurter, general co-chairman, at the Ulster County Veterans Service Agency, or at the office of the Kingston Chamber of Commerce.

Organizations participating in the testimonial include Rotary, Kiwanis and Lions Clubs, local chapters or posts of American Legion, Veterans of Foreign Wars, and Marine Corps League, and the 156th Field Artillery, NYNG.

Contrary to the general impression that testimonial dinners are out of the reach of many, the tickets to the June 5 dinner are moderately priced, according to Co-Chairmen Allan L. Hanstein and Howard C. Shurter.

According to announced plans, the dinner will be held at the George Washington School.

To Honor All Vets

Although the dinner was planned ostensibly to honor Maj. Gen. Robert W. Hasbrouck, retired, who is a former Kingston resident, it has been expanded at Gen. Hasbrouck's request to honor all of Kingston veterans of all wars.

A local sidelight to Gen. Devers' appearance here is the fact that he and Raymond R. Gross, manager of the Governor Clinton Hotel in this city, started school together when both were youngsters in York, Pa.

Hardiston notified the press, however, that "a great part of the testimony will involve highly confidential matters which cannot be made public," and added that for that reason, it "will be necessary to close the court at frequent intervals."

He said, police added, that yesterday Mrs. Salart ordered him to stay away from Olga.

Police said Charriez gave them two notes from Olga in which she professed her love for him. Mrs. Salart said he forced her to write them.

One of Olga's classmates said: "Olga was very quiet and never got into trouble in school. She was a very religious girl and always went to church."

Rev. Dr. Houston

York, and Dr. Samuel H. Sweeney of St. Mark's Church, New York, were the delegates to the General Conference from the New York Conference. There were approximately 800 delegates in attendance at the General Conference.

The Judicial Council, referred to in Methodist Church circles, as the "supreme court" of the church because of its duty to rule on appeals and constitutional questions involving Church law, is one of the most important groups of the church governing body. The Council sits at each session of the General Conference to rule and pass upon judicial matters.

Dr. Houston has served several large churches in the New York District as pastor and has been Superintendent of the Newburgh District and was Superintendent of the New York District from 1945 to 1949 prior to becoming pastor of St. James Church in this city.

United Air Lines today suspended all cargo plane service. Passenger ships carry mail, express and freight.

Eastern and Capital Air Lines have trimmed flights. Air France may pare its trans-Atlantic service. Military flying has been cut to essentials.

O. A. Knight, president of the CIO Oil Workers International, which heads the Coalition of 22 CIO, AFL and independent unions on strike, said strikers won't return to work without a settlement.

Hopes now ride on a May 13 meeting in Washington, D. C., between the WSB and representatives of management and the unions.

The unions have been asking a 25-cent hourly wage hike and increased night shift differentials. Knight said settlement might be possible at 18½ cents. The average wage now is from $2 to $2.10.

Memoriam

In loving memory of our dear son, Harry L. Marshall, who passed away one year ago, May 11, 1951.

What would we give, his hand to clasp,
His patient face to see;
To hear his voice, to see his smile,
As in the days that used to be.
But some sweet day we'll meet again,
Beyond the toil and strife,
And clasp each other's hands once more,
In Heaven, that happy life.

MOTHER'S DAY

No bands need play; no trumpets shall we blow;
There's nothing for the crowd to see nor hear;
We cannot offer any worldly show
In honor of the one we hold so dear.

The pathway's dim, my vision seems to blur,
As thru the years my footsteps I retrace;
I fain would spend the day alone with her,
And, with her arms about me, seek God's grace.

Woman Is Booked On Homicide in Man's Death Fall

New York, May 10 (AP)—Mrs. Lorraine Reed, 20, of 43-23 206th street, Bayside, Queens, was booked on a homicide charge early today in the death Thursday morning of Eugene Stokes, 52, of 171 West 23rd street, police reported.

Stokes plunged to his death from a ledge outside his third-floor furnished room. Police said a passerby saw him teeter on the ledge before falling.

Today, detectives said Mrs. Reed was booked on the specific charge of "causing Eugene Stokes to fall to the street from his third floor window causing his death."

Detectives said they arrested Mrs. Reed in an investigation started when they learned someone may have been with Stokes before his death.

They said Mrs. Reed and a male friend were in a neighborhood tavern early Thursday when Stokes, an acquaintance of the young woman, entered. Police said the three argued, and Stokes left. Later, authorities added, the woman, her friend and another man went to the building where Stokes lived.

Police quoted Mrs. Reed as saying the men remained downstairs and she went upstairs to Stokes' room for a chat.

Frightened by Visit

The detectives said she told them that Stokes appeared frightened by her visit, climbed out of the window, and fell to the street.

But she insisted, detectives said, that she said nothing to frighten him or intimidate him, that she did not approach him, and that she neither pushed him or touched him.

Police said they were looking for her companions, who were not identified. Detectives said the woman was estranged from her husband.

Detectives did not make public why the woman wanted to see Stokes in his room.

Stokes was a telephone repairman.

Highland state police, who investigated, said they believed the same person was involved in both thefts. They reported that the Town of Shawangunk truck had been damaged slightly about the front end when it had apparently struck a tree. The other truck, they said, was recovered undamaged.

Sunday Auto Races Win Out, Po'keepsie May Hold Circuses

Albany, N. Y., May 10 (AP)—Sunday auto-racing has made a super-charged spurt in New York state since the legislature liberalized the state's Sunday blue laws.

Spectator sports—including the controversial stockcar races—now are permitted by local ordinance in many communities. Others are expected to clear the dirt tracks for summer trade.

Stiff opposition from church groups has failed to block local permission in many areas. Speaking up at public hearings, ministers have argued that the Sunday races shrink their congregations, profane the Sabbath, and lure gamblers.

Auto-racing promoters have persuaded at least 15 municipalities in the state to permit Sunday events, an Associated Press survey shows.

It was a rash of disputes over stock-car racing and other Sunday sports that prompted the Legislature to remodel the blue laws.

Participation sports — fishing, hunting, golf, tennis and the like —are legal on Sunday anywhere in the state, under the 1952 law. But local governments must decide whether they will allow spectator sports, such as auto races and circuses.

Leading the boom in Sunday auto races is Rensselaer county, where at least six tracks have been approved.

Sunday circuses will be permitted in the town of Poughkeepsie. Closing of a large circus there last year helped spark the demand for revision of the law.

But the sponsors of the circus, the Poughkeepsie American Legion Post, noted that the clergy still opposed operating it on Sunday. The Legionnaires booked their show for a Saturday this year.

Oswego's City Council stepped into a local tiff when it approved a proposed ordinance to permit Sunday races.

Clergymen attacked the plan to let Oswego Amusements, Inc., run Sunday stock-car races within the city limits. Mayor Frank L. Gould has postponed action until the city attorney gives his formal opinion.

In Tioga, the town board has scheduled a referendum next Wednesday on a Sunday race proposal. The Shangri-La Speedway, west of the village of Oswego, asked permission to hold races.

Elsewhere, local governments have agreed in Vernon, Oneida county; Afton, Chenango county; Central Square, Oswego county; Greenport near Hudson in Columbia county; the towns of Sand Lake, Brunswick and Poestenkill in Rensselaer county; South Westerlo, Albany county; Alexandria Bay, Jefferson county; and Brewerton, Onondaga county.

Reports Car Brushed Miss Farrell, Shokan

Lawrence Machione, Jr., of Union street, Glasco, reported to police headquarters about 10:30 last night that as he was turning from Hoffman street into Broadway his car had brushed against Joan Farrell, 21, of Shokan.

Machione told Sgt. James Cullum that Miss Farrell claimed no injuries and told him that the car had just brushed against her coat.

A check at Miss Farrell's home produced a conflicting report. Michael Farrell said that when his daughter returned home last night she told him that the car had knocked her down and torn off one of her slippers. He said that she had also suffered bruises. No charges have been preferred against Machione, police said.

May Return Home Today

William S. Keyser of 167 Tremper avenue may return to his home today from Kingston Hospital, hospital authorities reported. Keyser, local funeral director associated with the Sweet and Keyser Funeral Home, has been a patient since April 15, when, the sheriff's office reported, he was injured in an automobile accident on Route 28 near this city. Hospital authorities today reported no change in the condition of Fred Goeller, 306 Clinton avenue, indicating that his condition is still considered "fair." Goeller and Keyser were injured in the same accident in which Anthony Herbert, 16, of Flushing, was fatally hurt. Also injured but discharged from the hospital shortly after the accident were Robert Canavan, 17 Belvedere street, and Philip Sinagra, 344 Broadway.

Shot at NYU Party

New York, May 10 (AP)—A New York University block party in Washington Square turned into a melee early today as a man apparently went berserk and was shot and killed by a special officer. Police identified the dead man as Enus L. Christiani, of Brockton, Mass., a 35-year-old Negro. Authorities said Christiani suddenly appeared among several gay students and overturned one of the many tables on the sidewalk. Clarence Young, a 22-year-old Negro porter, was badly beaten by Christiani when he tried to restrain the six-foot-plus man, police added. Then James G. Giordano, a special officer employed by the university, intervened but was struck to the ground by Christiani. As the officer fell, police said he fired two shots at Christiani.

Cartoonist Kirby Dies

New York, May 10 (AP)—Rollin Kirby, 77, three-time winner of the Pulitzer prize for his newspaper cartoons, died yesterday of a heart ailment. Kirby, who turned to cartoonnig only after his paintings failed to sell, won the prize in 1922, 1925 and 1929. His prize-winning cartoons concerned Russia in the early 1920s, American relations with the League of Nations, and New York politics. Kirby, a native of Galva, Ill., had worked for the old New York Sun, The old New York World, the New York World-Telegram and the New York Post. He quit the Post in 1942 and, since then, has drawn occasionally for various magazines.

Price Index Up

Washington, May 10 (AP)—The government's wholesale price index rose for the first time in six weeks during the week ended May 6. An advance of one-tenth of 1 per cent was announced by the Bureau of Labor Statistics. This brought the index to 111.3 per cent of the 1947-49 average—3.2 per cent below the January average and nine-tenths of 1 per cent below March. Prices for farm products were shoved higher by grains, hogs, eggs, soy beans, oranges, potatoes and coffee. There were declines for poultry, cattle, raw cotton and some fresh vegetables.

Gross' Brother

licemen, plus former Police Commissioner William P. O'Brien, Chief Inspector August W. Flath, former Chief of Detectives William T. Whalen and former First Deputy Fire Commissioner James J. Moran.

All these men were close friends and political appointees of O'Dwyer, now U. S. Ambassador to Mexico. O'Brien and Flath have called Gross a liar.

McDonald's ire apparently was roused by Gross' remark that he named these officers to Brooklyn authorities and the grand jury in 1950. Partly reiterating, Gross said yesterday:

"Perhaps someone was taken care of—I don't know. All I know is they were mentioned and they were left out. * * * I discussed it with Mr. Helfand (assistant Brooklyn District Attorney Julius Helfand). I said, is there favoritism here? But he told me not to try to be a lawyer."

In a statement, McDonald replied that there might have been more indictments if Gross had been a bit quicker talking about dealings.

Eighteen policemen, none of them high brass and none of them defendants at the current trial, were indicted for conspiracy and many others were named as co-conspirators. But the case collapsed last September when Gross suddenly refused to testify against them.

Youth Forfeits Bail On Traffic Charge

Robert Smith, 17, of 20 Webster street, forfeited $10 bail in City Court this morning on a charge of driving after dark with a junior operator's license.

Smith was arrested at 12:49 a. m. today by Officers John Crespino and Charles A. Hoehing. His arrest followed investigation of a report that a car had run into a tree on Crane street near East Union street.

Two on One Ear

Washington, May 10 (AP)—Mrs. Harold Burton, wife of the Supreme Court justice, only smiled when another woman whispered, "do you know you have two earrings on the same ear?" "Yes, I know," Mrs. Burton replied. Then she got into the elevator in her apartment building and sallied forth to yesterday's White House reception for the judiciary. There she had to explain: Her slanting hat covered the right ear and she wanted both bobs to show, so she put them top and bottom of her left ear.

Appeal for Gasoline

London, May 10 (AP)—Britain and the United States joined today in a world-wide appeal to restrict the consumption of aviation gasoline, the ministry of fuel announced. The appeal has been sent to all countries and "it is therefore expected that civil aviation will shortly be subject to restrictions on a world-wide basis," the announcement said. The action is the result of the American oil strike.

Escaped at Koje

Col. Wilbur Raven (above), of Newton, Texas, escaped from Communist prisoners of war on South Korea's Koje Island May 7, when prison camp commandant Brig. Gen. Francis T. Dodd was seized as a hostage. The colonel was identified as the officer involved by National Broadcasting Company correspondent John Rich.

General Dodd . . .

and 38 wounded. Dodd was named camp commander two days later. Another riot erupted on March 13 and 12 prisoners were killed and 26 wounded.

Used as Propaganda

While the Reds held Dodd captive, Gen. Matthew B. Ridgway, on the eve of his departure for Europe, issued a stinging blast at the kidnaping. He ordered Eighth Army Commander James A. Van Fleet to use "whatever force is necessary" to get Dodd out.

The Red propaganda mills seized immediately on the incident and Ridgway order.

North Korean General Nam Il, at the Panmunjom truce talks, charged the UN was preparing "another massacre" on the island.

Ridgway said at a news conference in Tokyo the Dodd kidnaping "may very well affect the Korean truce talks."

No Action Raised

raise dust over the WSB's steel ruling and its historic aftermath, there were these developments in the steel and related labor picture:

1. Labor members of the WSB urged public and industry members to adopt immediately a policy permitting additional wage increases to cover higher worker productivity. The board adopted a resolution yesterday allowing productivity and annual improvement raises for the rest of 1952 on contracts negotiated prior to the January 1951 wage freeze.

2. Government efforts to settle the Western Union strike failed again. As negotiations recessed indefinitely yesterday, the company demanded elimination of the union shop while the union reduced its demands to an 18-cents-an-hour wage increase.

Expect Ruling Today

3. The Supreme Court, after failing to act yesterday, was expected to rule today or Monday on a request by the three railroad operating unions to consider the government's three-year-old rail seizure along with the steel seizure.

4. Feinsinger said the Wage Stabilization Board is due to suspend all wage controls in the near future on firms employing eight or fewer employes.

5. Rep. Mansfield (D.-Mont.) told newsmen that President Truman thinks both the oil strike and government operation of the railroads will end soon.

6. Sen. Frank Carlson (R.-Kans.), director of the National Eisenhower-for President Headquarters, indicated in an address at Medford, Ore., that Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower, is opposed to such government actions as seizure of the steel plants.

Feud Is Settled

New York, May 10 (AP)—Joseph P. Ryan, president of the AFL International Longshoremen's Association (ILA), and dock boss Anthony (Tough Tony) Anastasia have settled their feud—the latest squabble to divide waterfront union ranks here. Anastasia, who bosses a stretch of Brooklyn piers, says he will let Ryan run ILA affairs in Brooklyn.

Devers Has Had

ton, D. C., which position he presently holds.

In June, 1951, the general was appointed chief military adviser to Dr. Frank P. Graham, head of the United Nations Mission to India and Pakistan, and spent from June until September on the subcontinent assisting with negotiations in an endeavor to settle the Kasmir affair. During the latter part of September and the early part of October, and again in December, he was in Paris attending United Nations Security Council meetings in connection with this mission.

Dinner for Public

The dinner is open to the public, both men and women. Tickets may be obtained from any of the participating organizations, from Ward Tongue, ticket chairman, at the county clerk's office; Howard C. Shurter, general co-chairman, at the Ulster County Veterans Service Agency, or at the office of the Kingston Chamber of Commerce.

Organizations participating in the testimonial include Rotary, Kiwanis and Lions Clubs, local chapters or posts of American Legion, Veterans of Foreign Wars, and Marine Corps League, and the 156th Field Artillery, NYNG.

Contrary to the general impression that testimonial dinners are out of the reach of many, the tickets to the June 5 dinner are moderately priced, according to Co-Chairmen Allan L. Hanstein and Howard C. Shurter.

According to announced plans, the dinner will be held at the George Washington School.

To Honor All Vets

Although the dinner was planned ostensibly to honor Maj. Gen. Robert W. Hasbrouck, retired, who is a former Kingston resident, it has been expanded at Gen. Hasbrouck's request to honor all of Kingston veterans of all wars.

A local sidelight to Gen. Devers' appearance here is the fact that he and Raymond R. Gross, manager of the Governor Clinton Hotel in this city, started school together when both were youngsters in York, Pa.

Hobson Official

bring any charges against officers or crew members involved.

The press is permitted to attend the inquiry being conducted by Rear Adm. Osborne B. Hardiston, presiding officer, and Rear Admirals Harry R. Thurber and Ralph Earle, Jr.

Some Secret Data

Hardiston notified the press, however, that "a great part of the testimony will involve highly confidential matters which cannot be made public," and added that for that reason, it "will be necessary to close the court at frequent intervals."

The vessels were maneuvering in simulated wartime activity at the time of the collision.

The Wasp is in the navy yard drydock where an official said its damaged bow will be replaced with a bow section from the mothballed carrier Hornet.

work, the mother said, but Olga did not love him.

Charriez, who was not hurt se- from his wife, a point Mrs. Salart questioned. He said Olga loved him and quoted the dead girl as once telling him that "if my mother tries to separate us, kill me and then kill yourself."

He said, police added, that yesterday Mrs. Salart ordered him to stay away from Olga.

Police said Charriez gave them two notes from Olga in which she professed her love for him. Mrs. Salart said he forced her to write them.

One of Olga's classmates said: "Olga was very quiet and never got into trouble in school. She was a very religious girl and always went to church."

Rev. Dr. Houston

York, and Dr. Samuel H. Sweeney of St. Mark's Church, New York, were the delegates to the General Conference from the New York Conference. There were approximately 800 delegates in attendance at the General Conference.

The Judicial Council, referred to in Methodist Church circles, as the "supreme court" of the church because of its duty to rule on appeals and constitutional questions involving Church law, is one of the most important groups of the church governing body. The Council sits at each session of the General Conference to rule and pass upon judicial matters.

Dr. Houston has served several large churches in the New York District as pastor and has been Superintendent of the Newburgh District and was Superintendent of the New York District from 1945 to 1949 prior to becoming pastor of St. James Church in this city.

porting products to the point of need, the PAD stated.

Airlines continued cropping use of high-octane fuel wherever possible. In recent developments, Eastern Airlines canceled 25 flights between New York city and 26 other eastern cities.

Defense Secretary Lovett canceled all flying activities planned for Armed Forces Day celebrations May 17.

United Air Lines today suspended all cargo plane service. Passenger ships carry mail, express and freight.

Eastern and Capital Air Lines have trimmed flights. Air France may pare its trans-Atlantic service. Military flying has been cut to essentials.

O. A. Knight, president of the CIO Oil Workers International, which heads the Coalition of 22 CIO, AFL and independent unions on strike, said strikers won't return to work without a settlement.

Hopes now ride on a May 13 meeting in Washington, D. C., between the WSB and representatives of management and the unions.

The unions have been asking a 25-cent hourly wage hike and increased night shift differentials. Knight said settlement might be possible at 18½ cents. The average wage now is from $2 to $2.10.

See No Bust Ahead

Hot Springs, Va., May 10 (AP)—Leading industrialists, meeting here to advise Secretary of Commerce Sawyer on economic policy, foresee no business bust ahead as the country tapers off its mobilization. Most of Sawyer's business advisory council, meeting with the secretary in closed session at the Homestead Hotel, yesterday urged abandonment of price and wage controls on June 30. Sawyer told reporters the businessmen found customers wary, production capacity greatly expanded, the buyers' market reviving, and sales competition taking care of most prices.

Held for Desertion

Toledo, O., May 10 (AP)—Toledo police arrested Pvt. Doris Reffitt, 23, blonde and pretty, on a charge of deserting the marine corps. "I didn't have any trouble quitting my job to join the marines," she told police, "and I don't see why everybody is making such a fuss because I quit the marines." She'd joined the marines after a spat with her boy friend, she explained to Police Sgt. Margaret Slater. On St. Patrick's Day she and her boy friend made up, she said, so she just decided to go back to him. Police held her on a warrant charging desertion from the marine base at Camp Lejeune, N. C.

See No Bust Ahead

Hot Springs, Va., May 10 (AP)—Leading industrialists, meeting here to advise Secretary of Commerce Sawyer on economic policy, foresee no business bust ahead as the country tapers off its mobilization. Most of Sawyer's business advisory council, meeting with the secretary in closed session at the Homestead Hotel, yesterday urged abandonment of price and wage controls on June 30. Sawyer told reporters the businessmen found customers wary, production capacity greatly expanded, the buyers' market reviving, and sales competition taking care of most prices.

Held for Desertion

Toledo, O., May 10 (AP)—Toledo police arrested Pvt. Doris Reffitt, 23, blonde and pretty, on a charge of deserting the marine corps. "I didn't have any trouble quitting my job to join the marines," she told police, "and I don't see why everybody is making such a fuss because I quit the marines." She'd joined the marines after a spat with her boy friend, she explained to Police Sgt. Margaret Slater. On St. Patrick's Day she and her boy friend made up, she said, so she just decided to go back to him. Police held her on a warrant charging desertion from the marine base at Camp Lejeune, N. C.

Sterling Street Dump Fire

May 7, 1952.

Editor, The Freeman

I feel that by writing to you I can get some ideas over to the people of Kingston, and I hope that you will have room in an issue of your paper to print this letter.

The residents and home-owners of the South Prospect Street and Barmann Avenue section of our fair (?) city can be thankful that the wind was blowing towards the Wiltwyck Cemetery instead of in the opposite direction Wednesday afternoon when the South Sterling Street dump again started to burn. Remembering the unhappy experiences of the past, many citizens and taxpayers of the 9th and 10th wards had reason to dread another fire in this dump. It has plagued the nearby residents for many years—bugs, rats, fire and stench. It has been filled in so much in the recent years that only the West Shore Railroad tracks now separate it from my home.

The Fire Department and many volunteer firemen worked long and hard—a dump fire is stubborn and difficult to control—but I believe it is time that our city abandoned this dump as was promised many times in the past. It is a menace to health and property. I never saw a rat near my home until last week when a huge one from the dump was in my yard.

Let's have a little civic pride and rid our "FAIR" (?) CITY of this ugly blot. If someone wants to do something constructive in connection with our 300th anniversary, I am sure that it would be well-remembered for many years to come. I have lived in the 10th Ward for all but two years of my life and always thought it a prettty good place to live—but now I am not so sure.

I know that many of my neighbors feel as I do and will appreciate your cooperation in bringing this before the public.

Esopus Legion To Meet Tuesday

Port Ewen, May 10—The annual election of officers for the Town of Esopus Post 1298, American Legion, will be held at the May monthly meeting Tuesday night, it was announced today by the Post executive committee. The meeting is scheduled to start at 8 p. m. at the Legion home on Legion Court in Port Ewen.

During the past month, a nominating committee, headed by Past Commander Robert Henry, has polled the membership by letter to determine their wishes as to candidates for the various offices. The results of this poll will be presented at Tuesday's meeting as the nominating committee's slate of candidates for officers for the new year. Posts to be filled include those of commander, three vice commanders, adjutant, finance officer, master-at-arms, historian and two members of the executive committee.

To Hear Parade Plans

Final plans also will be discussed for the Esopus Legion's sponsorship of the annual Memorial Day parade and service Friday, May 30, at Port Ewen. Donold Decker is general chairman of the parade and memorial service and will appoint various members of the Post at the Tuesday meeting to assist him in the carrying out of the day's events.

Plans also will be discussed for the Esopus Legion's sponsorship of Little League baseball in the township during the summer and for the holding of the County Legion meeting at Port Ewen in June. Robert Graves heads the Little League baseball committee and already has accomplished much of the groundwork necessary for the starting of the league in the town of Esopus. The report of this committee is expected to be of particular interest to Post members.

At the conclusion of the meeting, refreshments will be served.

Tired, Went to Sleep In Back of Ice Truck

Andrew Simmons of Saugerties was driving his ice truck to Kingston at 5 a. m. this morning when he saw the canvas in the back of it begin to move, Saugerties police reported today.

Stopping the truck to investigate Simmons discovered Arthur Tompkins, 16, son of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Tompkins of Finger Hill, Saugerties, under the canvas. According to Patrolman Gordon Keeley, the boy had crawled into the back of the truck during the night and gone to sleep. He woke up on the way to Kingston.

Keeley said that Simmons turned immediately and came back to Saugerties, but that when he parked his truck the boy had dashed off. He was overtaken after a short chase, Keeley said.

The boy's explanation, according to Keeley, was that he "just got tired and went to sleep."

Thomas B. Scott Wins $4560 Hartsdale Purse

Yonkers, N. Y., May 10 (AP)—Spotting the field at least ten lengths at the start when he went into a temporary "jump," Thomas B. Scott came back with a remarkable display of gameness to win the featured $4560 Hartsdale Pace in 2:05.1 at Yonkers Raceway last night.

The six year old pacer, on the outside all the way, caught Stanton Hal, the leader and then fought off Prince Adios in the final 30 yards to pay $4.60, $2.60 and $2.40. It was Thomas B. Scott's third win in four starts this year, bringing the Tom Carlock owned and driven star to more than $7,000 in earnings.

Prince Adios handled by Clint Hodgins was second and Doctor Parker, a 70 to 1 shot, sneaked in ahead of Stanton Hal for third place.

Giuliani Stops Williams in 5th

New York, May 10 (AP)—Sammy Giuliani, Stamford, Conn., swarmer, never will forget his 20th birthday.

Giuliani hit the 20 mark last night when he stopped the veteran Johnny Williams at the end of the fifth round at St. Nicholas Arena.

Using his weight advantage, 155 to 145½, young Giuliani crowded Williams to the ropes and corners with a mauling body attack. He floored the Montgomery, Ala., welter for nine in the fifth when he knocked him through the ropes.

Williams barely beat the count. When he wobbled back to his corner, Dr. Vincent Nardiello of the State Athletic Commission hopped into the ring. After a quick exam, he advised Referee Teddy Martin to stop it.

Esopus Legion To Meet Tuesday

Port Ewen, May 10—The annual election of officers for the Town of Esopus Post 1298, American Legion, will be held at the May monthly meeting Tuesday night, it was announced today by the Post executive committee. The meeting is scheduled to start at 8 p. m. at the Legion home on Legion Court in Port Ewen.

During the past month, a nominating committee, headed by Past Commander Robert Henry, has polled the membership by letter to determine their wishes as to candidates for the various offices. The results of this poll will be presented at Tuesday's meeting as the nominating committee's slate of candidates for officers for the new year. Posts to be filled include those of commander, three vice commanders, adjutant, finance officer, master-at-arms, historian and two members of the executive committee.

To Hear Parade Plans

Final plans also will be discussed for the Esopus Legion's sponsorship of the annual Memorial Day parade and service Friday, May 30, at Port Ewen. Donold Decker is general chairman of the parade and memorial service and will appoint various members of the Post at the Tuesday meeting to assist him in the carrying out of the day's events.

Plans also will be discussed for the Esopus Legion's sponsorship of Little League baseball in the township during the summer and for the holding of the County Legion meeting at Port Ewen in June. Robert Graves heads the Little League baseball committee and already has accomplished much of the groundwork necessary for the starting of the league in the town of Esopus. The report of this committee is expected to be of particular interest to Post members.

At the conclusion of the meeting, refreshments will be served.

Sterling Street Dump Fire

May 7, 1952.

Editor, The Freeman

I feel that by writing to you I can get some ideas over to the people of Kingston, and I hope that you will have room in an issue of your paper to print this letter.

The residents and home-owners of the South Prospect Street and Barmann Avenue section of our fair (?) city can be thankful that the wind was blowing towards the Wiltwyck Cemetery instead of in the opposite direction Wednesday afternoon when the South Sterling Street dump again started to burn. Remembering the unhappy experiences of the past, many citizens and taxpayers of the 9th and 10th wards had reason to dread another fire in this dump. It has plagued the nearby residents for many years—bugs, rats, fire and stench. It has been filled in so much in the recent years that only the West Shore Railroad tracks now separate it from my home.

The Fire Department and many volunteer firemen worked long and hard—a dump fire is stubborn and difficult to control—but I believe it is time that our city abandoned this dump as was promised many times in the past. It is a menace to health and property. I never saw a rat near my home until last week when a huge one from the dump was in my yard.

Let's have a little civic pride and rid our "FAIR" (?) CITY of this ugly blot. If someone wants to do something constructive in connection with our 300th anniversary, I am sure that it would be well-remembered for many years to come. I have lived in the 10th Ward for all but two years of my life and always thought it a prettty good place to live—but now I am not so sure.

I know that many of my neighbors feel as I do and will appreciate your cooperation in bringing this before the public.

Tired, Went to Sleep In Back of Ice Truck

Andrew Simmons of Saugerties was driving his ice truck to Kingston at 5 a. m. this morning when he saw the canvas in the back of it begin to move, Saugerties police reported today.

Stopping the truck to investigate Simmons discovered Arthur Tompkins, 16, son of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Tompkins of Finger Hill, Saugerties, under the canvas. According to Patrolman Gordon Keeley, the boy had crawled into the back of the truck during the night and gone to sleep. He woke up on the way to Kingston.

Keeley said that Simmons turned immediately and came back to Saugerties, but that when he parked his truck the boy had dashed off. He was overtaken after a short chase, Keeley said.

The boy's explanation, according to Keeley, was that he "just got tired and went to sleep."
